SPECIAL SPRING 2018 COURSE

FOR BOTH HELLENIC AND HC STUDENTS

The Missiology of Archbishop Anastasios of Albania Combined with a Summer Mission Practicum and Pilgrimage to Albania

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Missiology of Archbishop Anastasios (Yannoulatos) of Albania and Practical Evangelism in Albania will study in depth the life, missiology and writings of the greatest contemporary Orthodox missionary, Archbishop Anastasios (Yannoulatos) of Albania. The course will examine how he has practically lived out this missiology through his ministry in East Africa for 10 years (1981-1991) and in the Church of Albania (1991-2018). The course will look at the foundation and roots of missions in the Church. We will especially consider the resurrection of the Church of Albania over the past 25 years, examining and analyzing how the church has succeeded in living out the missiology of the Archbishop, and where the church has not yet lived up to this missiology.

PRACTICUM DESCRIPTION

The course will be a class which will meet for 7 weeks during the Spring Semester, and the remaining part of the class will be devoted to a mission practicum where the students will travel to Albania for twelve days from May 21-June 2, witnessing the resurrection of the Church of Albania, meeting missionaries and the indigenous leaders of the Church, and participating in an evangelism program within the country. If a student does not want to travel to Albania, and only take the class in the Spring semester, accommodations will be made.

COST OF SUMMER TRIP

The Mission Institute of Orthodoxy Christianity will subsidize part of the cost to Albania. Students will contribute $1000 towards the overall cost of the trip (which includes airfare). Students will have the option to pay this money either on their own, or can fundraise monies through the OCMC and the Missions Institute. OCMC Mission Trip Grants may be available for seminarians!

LIMITED SPACE FOR 12 STUDENTS IN THE CLASS.
