Second Season of Intramural 3 on 3 Basketball Steven Klund-SGA Athletics Director

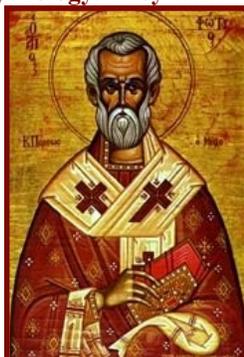

The Hellenic College and Holy Cross Athletic Department tipped off its second season of 3 on 3 basketball two weeks ago. Thus far this year's edition of the league is boasting more teams participating as well as a noticeably larger attendance of spectators for each game. We plan to continue playing games every Wednesday and Thursday night at 9 pm up until March, and encourage anyone who is interested to come by and watch some good clean competition. After the basketball championship, we will be holding March Madness week in cooperation with CAB, as well as our intramural soccer league later in the spring. Be on the lookout for fliers and emails advertising future athletic events. See you out on the court!

Saint Photios the Great Faith and Learning Symposium February 25, 2012

The Office of Vocation and Ministry at Hellenic College invites you all! This year's symposium will address themes related to faith and psychology. We will gather together to answer burning questions such as: How do we faithfully learn in a field such as psychology? How do we navigate the various and often opposing viewpoints of Orthodoxy and the psychological sciences? What can this discussion tell us about the way in which we should approach learning in other fields which we study?

Our speakers this year will be scholars and practitioners who stand at the forefront of the conversation between Orthodoxy and psychology. They will offer their account of the ways in which they have navigated this important topic.

Message from Your Student Government Association

Dear Fellow Students,

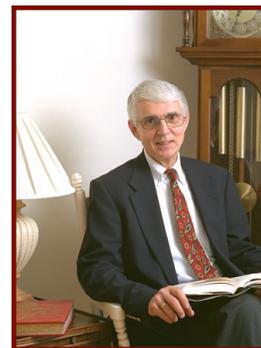

Last semester I went to the Boston Symphony Orchestra and heard live classical music. I don't really know anything about classical music, but I know it's beautiful. After I went to the concert I started to think to myself; why don't I do this more often? Why don't I take advantage of the cultural offerings of this wonderful city? I put together the same excuses that we all put together for why we don't do a lot of things; too busy, too expensive, hard to get there, etc. But this semester I want to make an effort for myself to go to at least one cultural event in Boston, this is a reasonable goal and one that I encourage everyone to take on. With lent approaching we look for healthy things to do with our friends that don't involve eating meat (or dairy). I think that going to the BSO, or the MFA, or any other museum or cultural offering of Boston is a wonderful way to have fellowship with our friends.

On a separate note I would like to tell you a little about the new TV in the JC Room. It is a very nice system, the entire SGA Board voted for it to be installed and the Holy Cross class of 2015 helped pick it out and install it. We hope that it is a source of entertainment for years to come. To help keep it in good condition we ask that you do not touch the wiring or connect any of your own gaming consoles etc. The TVs in the game room have wires already connected to the back of the TVs for students to connect their own system. Use the new TV in good health.

In Christ,

Andrew Pavlakos
SGA President

Stay tuned for a great spring semester – brought to you by CAB Nick Lionas-CAB Director

When you look at the posters and emails that go out on behalf of the Campus Activity Board do you ever wonder, "What is going on inside the heads of those running these events? Are they insane?" The short answer to that question is "Perhaps." A better indicator is how you answer the following question: Why is a lemon? If you answered "Because you can break glass with a hammer." Then you get what I'm talking about and perhaps we are not so insane after all. If you did not, then I think perhaps I might be slightly. It's funny how genius and insane are so often confused. We like to keep a foot on both sides of that thin line that runs between them.

As for this upcoming semester, all we can tell you is "GET READY!"
So here is a LIONAS BONUS TOP TEN THINGS TO EXPECT THIS SEMESTER:

10. Fun attitudes
9. Mario Kart Tourny
8. March Madness
7. Movie Nights Galore!
6. HCHC Tournament of Champions
5. (Yet to be named) AWARDS SHOW!
4. Service Projects
3. Boat Cruise! Tom Cruise? Penelope Cruz? Victor Cruz? (Too soon? Sorry Pats fans)
2. Dinna Dance
1. A lot of nonsense!*

*many more events than can be named

Look for signs/posters/pandemonium to point you in the right direction of fun. I look forward to sharing a great "end of the world year" with you and remember what a smart man once said,

"A little nonsense now and then always relished by the wisest of men" – Willy Wonka
