Theological Education for Leadership in Ministry and Service

Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology is a unique community of Orthodox faith and worship, learning and service. Centered upon Jesus Christ and his Gospel, Holy Cross is the graduate School of Theology and Seminary founded in 1937 and supported by the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, a province of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople.

The mission of Holy Cross is to provide theological education and formation for future clergy and lay leaders of the Church and society.

Holy Cross has the responsibility of preparing future clergy for the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and a number of other Orthodox jurisdictions. This is a sacred responsibility. The mission and well being of our Church requires clergy who have a strong devotion to Christ, nurtured by theological education, spiritual disciplines, pastoral insights and leadership skills.

Holy Cross also has the responsibility of preparing other men and women who desire to serve the Church and society with the benefit of theological education and spiritual formation. Many look to serve in positions such as chaplains, theologians, missionaries, parish administrators, religious educators, counselors, iconographers and church musicians.

The call to ministry has always been viewed as a vocation. Each vocation must be nurtured and supported in a community of faith, learning and worship.

During the past seventy years, Holy Cross has educated over a thousand clergy and lay leaders who are serving, or who have served, in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and other Orthodox jurisdictions both in this country and in other parts of the world. Graduates of Holy Cross are leading the Church here in North America as well as in South America, Europe, Africa and Asia.

Holy Cross embodies the historic educational mission of the Ecumenical Patriarchate and its Archdiocese in America.

Theological and Pastoral Programs

Today, Holy Cross offers exceptional opportunities for graduate level Orthodox theological education and formation on a beautiful campus in Brookline, Massachusetts overlooking the city of Boston.
The School offers three graduate degree programs to qualified students who have completed undergraduate studies. The programs include courses in: Biblical Studies, Church History and Ecumenism, Patristics, Dogmatic Theology, Ethics, Liturgics, Canon Law, Pastoral Theology, Church Music, and Ancient and Modern Languages.

The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) is a three or four-year program designed for students seeking comprehensive theological and ministerial education, and who seek to serve the church as clergy or as lay leaders. A Supervised Field Education Program is part of the degree requirements. This degree program is normally required for seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese who sense a calling to the priesthood.

The Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.) is a two-year program designed for students seeking an introduction to the various disciplines of Orthodox theology.

The Master of Theology (Th.M.) is a two-year program of advanced theological studies in a specialized discipline. It is designed primarily for students who have the M.Div. degree.

The Special Program for the Diaconate is designed especially for those who sense a call to serve as ordained deacons. The special courses are offered during two summer sessions and relate to additional programs offered at the Metropolis and parish levels. This program is not designed for those who sense a call to the priesthood.

The Pappas Patristic Institute sponsors conferences and lectures promoting patristic studies and relating them to contemporary concerns.

The newly established Mary Jaharis Center for Byzantine Art and Culture will provide programs, lectures and exhibits highlighting the contributions of Byzantium to the Church and society.

Holy Cross also offers special lectures and conferences during the academic year. They are open to clergy and laity as well as to scholars and non-degree candidates.

Our library, containing over 75,000 volumes, is a significant center of research for our faculty, students and visiting scholars.

The influence of Holy Cross reaches far beyond our Brookline campus. Our faculty, students and graduates have had a profound impact upon Orthodox theological reflection, parish life and missionary activity throughout the world.

Holy Cross emphasizes the intimate relationship between the study of Orthodox theology and worship and service to others through our community life and academic programs. Our community is centered upon Jesus Christ and His Gospel as known, lived and taught by the Orthodox Church.

Faithful and Well Prepared Leaders for the Church and Society

The education of future clergy and lay leaders at Holy Cross is multidimensional. Students are challenged to deepen their understanding of the various areas of Orthodox theology, to cultivate an attitude of faithful service to others, and to be persons of prayer through worship, graduate theological studies and community life.

We expect our future clergy and lay leaders to be persons of faith who appreciate our rich heritage of Orthodox Christian faith, learning, culture and philanthropy. We also expect them to be caring persons who are well aware of the pastoral needs of all God’s people. We expect them to be thoughtful people who are aware of the realities of today’s society. The expectations of our clergy and lay leaders are great because the needs are great.

Our Students

We have a remarkable student body, both men and women, in our three graduate level degree programs. These students are bound together by their devotion to Jesus Christ and a desire to serve as His ambassadors. Many are ‘second career’ students with families.
The majority of our students are preparing for ministry in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese. Yet, they come from a variety of backgrounds and they have different degrees of preparation. The make up of our student body reflects the changing demographics and missionary activity of the Church.

We also have students from other Orthodox and Oriental Orthodox jurisdictions in this country including the Antiochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese, the Orthodox Church in America, the Ukrainian Orthodox Church, the Serbian Orthodox Church, and the Coptic Orthodox Church.

International students come from Orthodox Churches in a number of countries including Greece, Kenya, Uganda, Albania, Bulgaria, Romania, Lebanon, Canada, Georgia, Serbia, the United Kingdom and China. The presence of these students enriches our community and contributes to cross cultural understanding.

The presence of international students indicates that Holy Cross is recognized throughout the world as a renowned center of Orthodox theological education and formation.

The Faculty

Holy Cross faculty members are widely recognized for their teaching and their contributions to theological scholarship, conferences and retreats. Many are involved in ecumenical and interfaith dialogues. A number contribute to the ministries of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, to the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and to the Standing Conference of Orthodox Bishops (SCOBA). All the members of the faculty are called to be faithful teachers, mentors and role models. Serving as a faculty member at Holy Cross requires not simply scholarly credentials. It also requires a commitment to Christ as known through the Orthodox Faith, a dedication to the students and the well being of the community. Our small classes encourage close interaction between faculty and students.

History and Mission

Holy Cross is a community of faith and learning, of heritage and service. Men and women from all parts of America and the world come to Holy Cross each year to pursue graduate study in the various disciplines of Orthodox theology. This study takes place in an atmosphere of prayer, shared convictions and common values which are rooted in the reality of Jesus Christ and the saving truths of the Gospel as received and proclaimed by the Orthodox Church.

Holy Cross was founded in 1937 and first located in Pomfret, Connecticut. Its initial purpose was to prepare future priests and teachers to serve the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese. Since that time, Holy Cross has served as the only seminary and School of Theology of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese in the Americas. The School moved in 1946 to Brookline, Massachusetts, where the students and faculty could take advantage of the unprecedented educational and cultural opportunities of Greater Boston.

In response to the emerging needs of the Church, and by virtue of its own academic maturation, Holy Cross expanded in 1966 its collegiate division into a full four-year liberal arts college, a distinct undergraduate institution known as Hellenic College. Today the faculties and students of the undergraduate and graduate schools continue to form one community, sharing the same campus and facilities. However, the two schools are academically separate entities. Holy Cross offers graduate programs of study leading to the degrees of Master of Divinity (M.Div.), Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.), and Master of Theology (Th.M.). Holy Cross has developed into an accredited graduate school of theology, and as such has become one of the most important institutions of the Orthodox Church in the Western hemisphere.

Education is viewed as an integration of learning and faith at Holy Cross. Holy Cross programs while committed to providing excellence in teaching, learning and scholarship also reflect the religious and cultural values of the Orthodox tradition expressed in the historic witness and mission of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople.

Holy Cross strives to fulfill the need of the Orthodox Church to educate each generation of leaders, clergy and laypersons, who share a common experience of learning, faith and a commitment to service. These are men and women who will exemplify the values of the Gospel as expressed through the historic Orthodox Christian faith.

The School is engaged in a variety of teaching, scholarship, service and worship activities directed toward developing the intellectual and spiritual potential of its students, as well as enabling the faculty to pursue teaching and scholarship in their various disciplines with academic freedom. The School is a community which encourages personal maturity, faith commitment and a desire to contribute to the well being of the Church and society.

Holy Cross is located in the Greater Boston area, known as the “Athens of America.” It is well known for its numerous colleges and universities. As a center of learning, the city is rich in religious, cultural, educational, artistic and athletic opportunities. Our own campus offers a variety of cultural activities and intramural sports. The underlying source of all of our experiences is our deep commitment to our Orthodox Christian faith and learning, to heritage and service which allows us to blend a unified vision of the past, present, and future in all that we do.

Holy Cross also is concerned with the advancement of Orthodox thought and life. It seeks to provide opportunities for sound theological reflection on vital issues facing the Church and society through research, publications and ecumenical encounters. The School is a source of renewal and continuing education for those already engaged in ministry. It is dedicated to the task of helping men and women fulfill their calling in various ministries through scholarly reflection and faithful discipleship in the midst of the complexities and responsibilities of contemporary life.

Theological education involves much more than purely academic endeavors. In the true spirit of Orthodox Christianity, formal educational growth, academic excellence, and spiritual formation are inseparably connected. Life at Holy Cross, in all its diverse aspects, is a dynamic process, which takes place at the level of shared concerns centered on the values, spirit and worship of the Orthodox Church. Students experience the ethos and substance, the thought and tradition, the life and practice of the catholic and apostolic faith. Worship is central to the life of our community. Prayer and the sacramental life are indispensable to spiritual nurture. Holy Cross is thus concerned not only with the academic, but also with the spiritual and moral development of students. The theological student is one who strives not only to gain a deep understanding of the faith, but also to live this faith with all its transformative power and practical implications in the course of daily life.

Accreditation and Affiliation
Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology enjoys a dual accreditation. It is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, Inc. through its Commission on Institutions of Higher Education. It is also accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada. Holy Cross is recognized by Greek law as equivalent to the Schools of Theology of the Universities of Athens and Thessaloniki.

Holy Cross maintains ongoing relationships with other Orthodox schools of theology in the United States, Canada, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia. It sponsors faculty and student exchange programs with several of these schools. It has a special relationship for student and faculty exchange with St. Vladimir’s Orthodox Theological Seminary in Crestwood, New York. It also shares its faculty and educational resources with the Melkite Seminary of St. Gregory the Theologian in Newton, Massachusetts. Finally, Holy Cross has a unique relationship with the Orthodox Schools of Theology at the Universities of Athens and Thessaloniki in Greece providing opportunities for student and faculty exchange.

Boston Theological Institute
Holy Cross is a member of the Boston Theological Institute (BTI), a consortium of nine theological schools in the Boston area. Students from Holy Cross, in consultation with their academic advisors, may cross-register for elective courses without charge at any of the other BTI schools. The number of electives permitted to be taken in the BTI may not exceed half the number of electives available in any given degree program. This restriction may be lifted when additional courses not offered at Holy Cross are taken to cover degree requirements or for specialization.

The Boston Theological Institute is one of the oldest and largest theological consortia in the United States. Participating students, faculty, alumni, and friends have been enriched by their collaborative efforts in academic studies and ecumenical engagements. The member schools include: Andover Newton Theological School, Boston College Department of Theology, Boston University School of Theology, Episcopal Divinity School, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, Harvard University Divinity School, Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, St. John’s Seminary and Weston Jesuit School of Theology. Visit the BTI website at www.bostontheological.org, for more information.

Entrance Examination

Each applicant, once he or she is admitted to any of the degree programs of Holy Cross, is required to take an entrance examination during his or her initial registration. The goal of this examination is to identify strengths and weaknesses in the student’s preparation for studies in Orthodox theology. Students who fail to pass the examination may be required to do remedial work on a non-credit basis with assistance from appropriate members of the faculty. A short reading list will be sent to each student once he or she has been admitted to a degree program in preparation for the exam.

Regular Students

The term “regular student” is used for all students, including transfer, exchange and international students, who have been accepted into one of the three degree programs offered by Holy Cross and who pursue the degree requirements on a full-time basis. The course load for a full-time regular student depends on the degree program in which he or she is enrolled. A student is considered full-time when he or she is taking a minimum of 12 credits per semester. Full-time tuition rates remain the same for any student enrolled in 12 to 18 credits per semester.

Special Students

One may also apply for admission as a Special Student. Special Students are normally those who, for one reason or another, do not technically fulfill all the requirements for admission as a full-time or part-time candidate for a degree. Special Student status may be held for only one academic year. Following this, the student must request either full-time or part-time status or withdraw.

Special Students are classified according to the following three categories:

1. Those intending to apply for a degree program: a limited number of students who do not technically fulfill all requirements but desire to enroll in degree programs are admitted as Special Students for a period of up to one academic year. After this, a student must request regular status or withdraw. Special Students usually are not eligible for seminarian status or for financial assistance from the School. They are subject to the same regulations as regular students in all other respects. Applicants in this category follow the same procedures and submit the same materials as regular students. Special students are ineligible for federal financial aid as required by the U. S. Department of Education.

2. Non-degree candidates: the School admits a limited number of applicants who desire to take one or more courses, whether for credit or audit, on a non-degree basis. These applicants must demonstrate the capacity to work successfully on the graduate level. They follow simplified application and registration procedures, the appropriate forms for which may be obtained from the Offices of Admissions and the Registrar. Non-degree candidates are ineligible for federal financial aid.
3. Hellenic College seniors: all honor students of Hellenic College, during their senior year, may take one course per semester in the School of Theology with the approval of the Deans of both Schools. Students of Hellenic College who plan to enroll in the School of Theology normally take Old and New Testament Introduction in their senior year and obtain 6 credits toward their college degree. In addition, seniors of Hellenic College who have nearly completed their college requirements and have available openings in their academic program may petition the graduate school faculty for Special Student status by completing the necessary form devised for this purpose. Normally two courses per semester may be taken under this status with the approval of the Deans of both Schools. Credit for such courses is applied toward the theology degree. In no instance is double credit given for any courses (that is, toward the fulfillment of requirements in both the College and School of Theology). Also, upon completion of their undergraduate studies, Hellenic College students who desire to enroll in the School of Theology must fulfill all admission requirements for entering Holy Cross.

Students with Special Student status are ineligible for federal financial aid, as required by the Department of Education. Students with special student status are also ineligible for institutional scholarships.

Transfer Students
Students wishing to transfer to the School of Theology from regionally accredited theological schools and graduate seminaries must normally have a minimum 2.00 grade point average in their previous academic work. Students transferring credit for a course must have earned at least a C in the course from an accredited institution whose catalog is reviewed for the course description. Those courses that are accepted correspond to courses offered by the School, or are related to them. However, in order to earn a Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology degree, there is a two-year residency requirement for the Master of Divinity degree, and a one-and-one-half-year residency requirement for the Master of Theological Studies degrees.

Exchange Students
Exchange students are those who are officially registered with other accredited graduate theological schools and seminaries and take one or more courses at Holy Cross, whether for credit or audit. Grades for the courses taken are transmitted to the school in which the student is officially registered. Financial obligations are determined by the protocol between these schools and Holy Cross.

International Student
Immigration status for foreign national students is only granted for a period of two (2) years when enrolled in the Th.M. degree program. No extension will be granted beyond the two (2) year degree program. Optional Practicum Training (OPT) is not available for Th.M. degree recipients. The I-20 will be issued for all other degree-seeking students. the expected length of the program as outlined in this catalog. No OPT or extensions will be granted.

Part-time Students
The School of Theology accepts a limited number of qualified students as degree candidates on a part-time basis. Tuition is determined on a credit-hour rate. Such part-time students must fulfill all admission requirements. Part-time students must be registered for a minimum of 6 credits in order to receive federal financial aid.

International Students
Students who are applying from foreign countries must:

- Be a degree-seeking student.
- Meet admission criteria for freshmen, or as transfer whichever is applicable.
- Pass the TOEFL test with a minimum score of 550 for the paper-based test, or a minimum score of 80 for new Internet based TOEFL.
- File a HCHC Financial Statement that indicates your sponsor has sufficient finances to support you for the duration of your stay in the United States. Downloaded financial statements must be mailed to us because signatures are required.
- Maintain full-time enrollment in order to comply with federal regulations.

Holy Cross international students are responsible for keeping their own passports valid for six months beyond the expiration date of their I-20. International students are required to report their addresses to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) on form I-53, available at the U.S. Post Office, on or before January 31 of each year.

Proficiency in English, to pursue a course of study equivalent to that normally required of an American applicant, must be demonstrated through the TOEFL scores, which must be no lower than 550 on the paper based test or no lower than an 80 on the computer-based testing. When registering for the TOEFL exam, please note the Holy Cross TOEFL code number is 9794.

International students must maintain full-time status (12 minimum credit hours) to be in compliance with federal law.

International students must submit an immigration status declaration form and an affidavit of support in addition to the admissions requirements for all students. Support from churches, organizations, individuals, other outside parties, etc., must be documented in writing and indicate monetary amounts thereof.

International students are required to be in full compliance with all laws and regulations regarding their studies and immigration status. Failure to do so is basis for dismissal.

Seminarians

Since its establishment in 1937, the primary purpose of Holy Cross has been and continues to be the preparation, education and training of clergy for the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. In conjunction with the academic requirements of the M.Div. program, men studying at Holy Cross towards ordination participate in an integrative seminarian program designed to facilitate the intellectual, spiritual, personal, interpersonal and pastoral development of the student. The seminarian program is principally intended to prepare future priests to serve the needs of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, although it is open to men from other Orthodox jurisdictions and churches.

A declared candidate for the priesthood upon acceptance into the Master of Divinity program, is considered for admission into the seminarian program during his first year of studies. The student’s progress will be reviewed during this time. The criteria for evaluation include: 1) academic performance; 2) faithful attendance at chapel services; 3) development of a stable and regular relationship with a designated spiritual father; 4) ongoing participation in spiritual and psychological assessments; 5) adherence to all the rules and regulations governing student life as described in the student handbook and other directives of the school.

The President makes the decision as to who receives the designation of seminarian after verifying a candidate’s academic and spiritual progress. Formal recognition of seminarians takes place in the fall semester of their second year at the ceremony of the stavroforia when crosses are presented to them after Great Vespers of the Feast of the Elevation of the Holy Cross (September 14). A second formal recognition of a seminarian’s good standing occurs in the fall semester of his senior year in the ceremony of the rassoforia, when the seminarian is given the honor of wearing the exorasson, evidencing his fitness to preach the word of God.

Seminarians are expected throughout their tenure at Holy Cross to “grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ” (2 Peter 3:18) and to strive to live their lives “in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ” (Philippians 1:27). Seminarians are encouraged to utilize the academic, spiritual, pastoral, psychological and vocational resources of the School throughout their studies at Holy Cross. In order to assist a seminarian’s development, his progress is reviewed regularly.

The final official act of the Holy Cross seminarian program is to offer its assessment of a candidate for ordination when the candidate submits his application to church authorities. Please note that even the successful completion of the seminarian program does not in itself warrant ordination. The decision to ordain is made solely by church authorities of the candidate’s respective jurisdiction.

Special Ministerial Candidates

1. Men who hold the Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent from a non-Orthodox theological school and have received ministerial ordination prior to their reception into the Orthodox Church who wish to be candidates for the holy priesthood in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese must normally have at least two years of living experience in a Greek Orthodox parish prior to their acceptance as seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese.

They must also complete three years of study at Holy Cross. The Holy Cross degree program will be tailored to meet individual needs. The modified course of study will include language courses and will be planned in consultation with the dean and the candidate’s academic advisor.

2. Candidates who hold an advanced degree (beyond the M.Div.) will complete a two-year degree program structured to meet their particular needs for service in the Church.
3. Candidates who hold advanced degrees (M.A., Ph.D.) without any theological training will be enrolled in the three or four year M.Div. degree program.

4. The completion of the four, three or two-year degree programs does not in itself constitute a guarantee for ordination.

5. Candidates may be required by Church authorities to do additional work upon the completion of the degree program in order to strengthen their linguistic abilities and refine their liturgical training.

Withdrawal from a Course
Withdrawal takes place after the confirmation of registration. Students should (1) obtain a course change authorization form from the Registrar's Office, (2) have it approved by their professor or advisor and the Dean, then (3) return it to the Registrar's Office. Withdrawals within the designated drop/add period will be recorded as “W.” This notation has no bearing upon the calculation of the grade point average. Applicable refunds are outlined within the financial information section. Students who withdraw from class merely by being absent or after the designated drop/add period will be given a "WF," which is equivalent to a grade of F and incur full financial obligation to Holy Cross.

Course Auditing
Any student intending to audit a course (and earn no credit) is required to note this on the registration form and to receive the permission of the course instructor. Auditors are expected to attend all regular classes. A student who first registers for the course for credit may change to auditor status only during the drop/add period. A student who first enrolls in a course for auditor status may change to credit status only during the drop/add period. Courses audited are not included in determining the total credits earned. The charge for courses which are audited is 50% of regular tuition rates.

Leave of Absence
A leave of absence will be granted for one semester, and up to a total of two semesters, subject to review by the academic dean. No student may have a leave of absence longer than two semesters during his or her years at the school. A request for a leave of absence for a semester or for a full academic year must be filed with the Registrar’s Office before the end of the semester preceding the leave. A student must repeat the full process of admission if he/she does not return after one year.
Withdrawal from School
A student who desires to withdraw voluntarily from the school, must (1) secure an application for withdrawal from the Registrar’s Office; (2) obtain the required signatures; and (3) file the application with the Registrar. If withdrawal takes place after the tenth academic day of the semester, a mark of “W” (withdrawn) will be entered on the student’s transcript, and credit will not be granted. Any student who fails to withdraw in the prescribed manner, as stated above, will not be entitled to an honorable dismissal or to any refund, and will receive a grade of F on all courses carried.

Reinstatement after withdrawal must be made through the Office of Admissions. Students who have been absent from the institution may be eligible for readmission by a simplified application process. To be eligible, one must have withdrawn voluntarily or requested a leave of absence. In this case, the following documents must be submitted:

1. A Petition for Readmission form (available from the Registrar’s Office).
2. A letter addressed to the President detailing the reasons for seeking readmission.
3. A one to two page update to the original Autobiographical Statement recounting one’s activities since leaving Holy Cross.
4. Official transcripts documenting all academic work undertaken since leaving Holy Cross.
5. International petitioners must submit anew the following forms: Affidavit of Support, Immigration Status Declaration, and Dependent Family Visa Request and Affidavit (if applicable).

If it has been two years or less since the student withdrew or filed for a leave of absence, the President and Dean will decide on the petition after reviewing the original application dossier together with the student’s record and the autobiographical update. If the student has been away from Hellenic College and Holy Cross between two years and five years, the President, Dean, and faculty (through the Admissions Committee) will need to approve the petition for readmission. Students who have been absent for five years or more must reapply through the regular applications process applicable to all prospective students.

Time Limitations
Credits earned more than ten years before admission or readmission to a degree program in the School of Theology may not be applied toward a degree. The faculty reserves the right to determine the number of credits from prior course work, which may be applied to a degree program.

Grading System
Holy Cross uses the alphabetical grading scale and places the following value on its categories:

- A: A sign of outstanding work and knowledge of the material.
- B: A sign of thorough work and knowledge of the material.
- C: A sign of basic knowledge of the material.
- D: Deficient work.
- F: Inadequate work.

Good Standing and Probation

In computing the quality point average, the Registrar’s Office shall give each semester grade a numerical value as listed above, multiply that figure by the credit value of the respective course, and then divide the total sum of the credits taken. The resulting figure is the quality point average (QPA).

1. All students must maintain a quality point average of at least 2.00 (C) per semester in order to be considered in good standing.
2. Students with a quality point average of 3.75 or higher are named to the Dean’s List.
3. Students with a quality point average of 3.33 but less than 3.749 are placed on the Honors List.
4. Credit is allowed for only one course per semester in which a student receives a grade of D. Credit is not allowed for a second required course in the same field (e.g., systematic theology, church history, Old Testament, etc.) in which a student receives a D during the entire academic program.

Furthermore, the following stipulations also apply to passing credit for a D:

a) If, in any given semester, more than one D is received, credit for only one such course will be given toward graduation requirements.

b) If, in any given semester, more than one D is received and one of the grades is for an elective course, credit will be given for the elective course, not the required course.

c) If, in any given semester, two or more Ds are received in required courses, the student may choose which course will be designated for credit and which course(s) will be repeated, except in cases involving a second D in required courses of the same area.

5. Less than a 2.00 (C) quality point average automatically places a student on academic and financial aid probation.
6. The Registrar will officially inform students in writing of the student’s probationary status in January for the spring semester, and in June for the fall semester, provided that all the student’s grades have been received by the Registrar.
7. Students who are on academic probation for two semesters, consecutive or not, will receive the Registrar notification of automatic academic suspension and will be required to discontinue their studies at the School. However, the student may formally petition the faculty for reinstatement. The petition must be submitted to the Dean’s office within two weeks of being notified of the suspension. If reinstated, the student will be ineligible for federal financial aid until satisfactory academic progress is proven and confirmed by the Dean. Students who have a quality point average of less than 1.00 (D) shall receive an automatic academic dismissal.

Graduation

Each student must have a cumulative quality point average of not less than 2.00 (C) and have completed the credit requirements for the degree in order to graduate. Students are responsible for meeting the full requirements for graduation as set forth in the school catalog upon date of entry. The academic advisor assists in the planning of a program, but the final responsibility for meeting the requirements for graduation rests with the student.

Academic Advisor

Each student is assigned to one of the faculty members as his or her academic advisor by the Dean. Part of the advisor’s role is to assist the student with his or her intellectual and spiritual development. To this end, the advisor meets with the student at least twice each semester to discuss the student’s academic standing, acquaint him or her with faculty policies and recommendations, review and sign his or her course registration forms, and be available for consultation. Each faculty member has an office and may be seen during the posted office hours.

Selection of Courses

Each student is expected to be familiar with all regulations covering the curriculum and is responsible for planning a course of study in accordance with those regulations and requirements pertinent to his or her intended degree.
Elective Courses
Because of the comprehensive nature of the Orthodox tradition (embracing Scripture, Church history, the Church Fathers, dogmatic theology, liturgics, canon law, etc.) and other essential requirements pertaining to language studies and vocational skills, the degree programs (excepting the Th.M.) allow for only a limited number of elective courses. The limited number of elective slots and moderate number of students taking electives necessitate the policy that elective courses must normally enroll a minimum of four and a maximum of eight M.Div. and M.T.S. students, with preference given to graduating seniors. A filled elective course can additionally enroll a combined total of four Th.M. and B.T.I. students. Preference is given to Th.M. students in advanced 7000 level courses. All other arrangements are considered rare exceptions and require the approval of the Dean.

Reading and Research Courses
Courses given under Reading and Research serve specific research interests of faculty and students. They are advanced courses intended for honor students and for specialized study in areas not covered by the required and elective courses. Reading and Research courses cannot be taken in order to fulfill required or elective courses, nor simply for convenience of scheduling. Because Reading and Research courses are normally offered in addition to regular faculty teaching loads, they require the approval of both the dean and the faculty member asked to offer the course. Reading and Research courses are accompanied by a syllabus and a learning agreement between the student and the faculty member submitted to the Dean in a timely fashion.

Class Attendance Policy
Students are expected to attend class promptly and regularly, to prepare assignments with care, to turn in their papers on time and to take an active part in class discussions. At the beginning of each course, the professor will make it clear to his or her students that excessive absences will necessarily affect their actual progress and achievement in learning and will definitely be taken into account in evaluating their work. Each professor will, at that time, define the term “excessive,” which will not include anything more than three unauthorized absences or a total of seven absences. Authorization for absences must be obtained through the Office of Student Life.

Semester Course Load
The normal course load for students in Holy Cross consists of approximately 15 credit hours per semester. The minimum credit hours per semester for full-time status is 12 credits. The student will be required to pay additional tuition for credit hours taken over 18 credits per semester.

Holy Cross students are not permitted to overload in their first year of study except in extenuating circumstances and with the approval of the Dean. Beyond the first year, honor students may take a total of up to two extra elective courses according to their interests and vocational goals. The decision to take more than 18 credits in a given semester is subject to approval by the Dean. It should be noted that, although credit for such extra electives will appear on their academic records, it should be in addition to the credit requirements of their particular degree program.

Summer Courses
The School of Theology offers courses during the summer in one or two sessions (June/August), when possible. Courses will be offered only under the condition that a minimum of five students, paying full tuition rates, are enrolled in each course. Only two such courses taken during the summer sessions will be accepted for credit.

Incomplete Course Work
1. All course requirements are normally completed by the time of the final examination.
2. Students may request from the instructor an “incomplete” for substantial reason in order to complete course requirements. The form requesting an incomplete must be obtained from the office of the Registrar, completed by the student and signed by the instructor. The signed form must be completed and submitted to the office of the Registrar by the student prior to the last day of class.
3. The incomplete may be granted if the instructor believes that the stated reason is sufficient to do so.
4. The instructor is not required to grant the incomplete. The student’s grade will be based upon the completion of other course requirements in the event the incomplete is not approved.
5. Only one incomplete is permitted for each student in a semester without the explicit permission of the Dean and for an exceptional reason.
6. The incomplete course work must be completed within 30 days from the conclusion of the semester or summer session (the last scheduled final examination) and submitted to the Registrar. The Registrar will note the date of submission and will forward the course work to the instructor. The Dean may grant an extension of the due date only for an exceptional reason.
7. The instructor normally will submit the grade to the Registrar’s Office within one week after the student’s incomplete course requirement has been received from the registrar. The Registrar will inform the instructor if the incomplete requirement is not submitted by the due date. The instructor will submit a grade based upon other completed course requirements.

8. The student will receive an I for the course if no grade is submitted at the end of the allotted period of time. A further change in the grade will be permitted only with the permission of the Dean and for an exceptional reason.

Academic Honesty
As part of their scholarly development, students learn how to work cooperatively in a community of scholars and how to make fruitful use of the work of others without violating intellectual honesty. They learn the parameters of collaboration and the proper forms of quoting, summarizing and paraphrasing. Faculty advisors and other faculty members will give additional information and instruction in this area.

A student is liable for disciplinary action if found in violation of the accepted norms of student accountability in his or her academic work. All work submitted to meet course requirements (homework assignments, papers, examinations) is expected to be the student’s own work, designed and presented for one course only. In the preparation of work submitted to meet course requirements, students should always take care to distinguish their own ideas from information derived from primary and secondary sources. The responsibility for learning the proper forms of citation lies with each individual student. All paraphrased material must be acknowledged.

Some specific types of academic dishonesty:

- Data falsification: the fabrication of data or the alteration of data included in a report.
- Plagiarism: taking another’s statements, ideas, or information without full and proper acknowledgment, and presenting them as one’s own.
- Collusion: assisting another student by allowing him to copy one’s own work; the use of purchased essays or term papers and unauthorized cooperation in assignments or during an examination.
- Holy Cross insists upon the highest standards of academic integrity in all student work, both written and oral. A full discussion of the responsibilities of students and faculty in this matter can be found in the student handbook.

The following steps will be taken in the event of plagiarism:

1. The faculty member will present evidence of plagiarism to the student. If plagiarism is confirmed by the student or is indisputable on account of the evidence, the faculty member will inform the Dean and arrange a meeting between the student, the Dean, the faculty member, and if necessary, other involved parties.

2. If the above meeting results in agreement that plagiarism has occurred, the student will be placed on academic probation. In addition, Holy Cross faculty members for courses in which the student is enrolled will be informed of the student’s plagiarism. In addition, the Dean and the faculty member who initiated the process of assessing the student’s plagiarism will proceed with disciplinary measures that reflect the severity of the act. Those measures may include, but are not limited to: failing the course where plagiarism occurred; withdrawing from said course without reimbursement; and rewriting the assignment(s) for a lower grade.

3. If said student commits a second offense of plagiarism, the process will be repeated. If confirmed, the second academic probation will result in more severe consequences. Additional measures may be taken, such as listed above; the student may also be expelled from the School.

4. The student may appeal the decisions of the Dean and the faculty member by petitioning the Disciplinary Committee.
Student with Disabilities

Hellenic College-Holy Cross is committed to providing a supportive community for students with disabilities who are accepted for admission to our School. The School seeks to provide all students with disabilities a community of faith and learning that affords them equal access and reasonable accommodation for their disabilities.

Students with disabilities are requested to provide the Office of Spiritual Counseling and Formation with documentation of the disability within the first two weeks of the semester. The Office will contact the Dean and instructors to discuss appropriate assistance and accommodations. The details of a student's disability will not be discussed without the student's permission.

The rights of students with disabilities are protected under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504) and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA).

Anti-Discrimination Policy

Hellenic College-Holy Cross does not discriminate and does not permit discrimination by any member of its community against any person on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, parental status, marital status, age, disability, citizenship or veteran status in matters of admissions, employment, housing or services or in its educational programs or activities.

Harassment, whether verbal, physical, visual or electronic, is a form of discrimination and will not be tolerated.
Student Life

The Office of Student Life (OSL) serves the HC/HC community in many capacities and supports student initiatives for improving community life. The OSL also assists students and their families with problems for which they have been unable to find adequate resolution elsewhere.

The Dean of Students oversees the following student activities: the Student Government Association (SGA); Campus Activities Board (CAB); HC/HC community events; disciplinary procedures; the student directory; the Synaxis (gathering of the student body) schedule; guest speakers; retreats; special needs of individual students and their families; and diakonia (community service) assignments.

Student Government
The purpose of the Student Government is to act as the legislative, unifying and enforcing representative of the student body and to provide for activities, events and programs for the student body. The Student Government is comprised of two branches: the Student Government Association (SGA) and the Campus Activities Board (CAB).

The Student Government Association consists of the five elected officers of Student Government, one elected representative from each class of Hellenic College and Holy Cross, and one representative each from the Campus Activities Board, the Married Students Association (MSA), the Hellenic Students Association (HSA), and Orthodox Campus Fellowship (OCF). Four permanent committees function within SGA: 1) Spiritual Life; 2) Athletics; 3) Missions; and 4) Constitution. All SGA meetings are open to the entire student body.

The Campus Activities Board consists of the Director of CAB and two representatives each from Hellenic College and Holy Cross. The CAB complements the SGA by creating opportunities for student involvement and fostering campus environments that inspire students to become active members of the campus, the School and the community. The CAB works in collaboration with the Office of Student Life to offer a wide array of educational, cultural, social, recreational and spiritual programs that promote student learning and development.

Byzantine Choir
The School Byzantine Choir is named for St. Romanos the Melodist, after the saint of the Church known for his gift for sacred music. The choir, which sings and performs ecclesiastical music in the Byzantine tradition and traditional Greek music, is often invited to perform at special occasions in the Greater Boston area and elsewhere.

Married Student Association
The Married Student Association (MSA) provides a forum for the interaction of married students and resolution of issues particular to their situation, performing philanthropic work and assisting in various community activities. The MSA is open to married students and their spouses residing both on and off campus.

Orthodox Inter-Seminary Movement
The OISM is a movement that helps to improve relations between Orthodox seminarians of all jurisdictions throughout the United States and Canada. Weekend encounters are held at the various member seminaries during the academic year. Emphasis is placed on spiritual, intellectual and social activities among the representatives of all the member seminaries.

Syndesmos
Syndesmos is an international organization of Orthodox youth with membership throughout the world. It assists in fostering intra-Orthodox cooperation. International meetings of member groups are held periodically.

Committees and Activities
Various special committees and clubs organize particular programs for the School and respond to the special interests of students. Included among these clubs and programs are mission trips, women’s groups, co-ed soccer teams, men’s basketball teams, women’s volleyball teams, women’s Byzantine choir, monastery trips, football, baseball and basketball outings, variety shows, hiking trips, HOPE and JOY for the children, and service projects.
Office of Chaplaincy

The Chaplaincy Office exists to assist students, faculty and staff in their spiritual growth on campus. In particular it offers the following ministries:
Coordinates the liturgical life on campus;
Oversees the chapels on campus;
Schedules services and serving clergy;
Supervises the various ministries in the Chapel such as the ecclesiarch, altar groups, chant groups, decorators and ushers;
Educates in the liturgical life by producing liturgical texts and guides and offering seminars.
Assists the President and the Department of Spiritual Formation and counseling Services in overseeing the seminarian program;
Offers spiritual counsel.; Assists the spiritual father program on campus by encouraging students to establish and maintain spiritual father/son or daughter relationships;
Coordinates various spiritual retreats both on and off campus.
Office of Spiritual Formation and Counseling Services

Our Mission
Students and families of students are invited to call upon the HC/HC community’s resources in the areas of spiritual formation and counseling to strengthen and enhance their personal growth. The Office of Spiritual Formation and Counseling Services supports the mission of Hellenic College/Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology by nurturing the spiritual and psychological well-being and development of all students and their families working in conjunction with the faculty, alumni and the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese. These programs are available to all students and family members. The Pastoral Care Director and Psychological Care Director coordinate the following services: spiritual fathers program; spiritual and psychological assessment; and counseling and referrals.

The Seminarian Program
Christian leadership requires a combination of love, knowledge, intuition, and faith – strengthened by self-confidence, tempered by humility and modeled on the conciliarity of the Holy Trinity. Important as books are, liturgical and pastoral skills are best learned through the intangibles afforded by example and experience. In addition to being an educational institution, the HC/HC community is a parish.

Seminarians are required to participate regularly in daily chapel services, scheduled synaxes (community gatherings called by the President), diakonia (community service) assignments, on- and off-campus retreats and other community events. All seminarians are required to participate in annual events such as the Greater Boston Greek Independence Day celebrations and graduation ceremonies. As future leaders of the larger community, seminarians must first show themselves to be self-motivated and responsible to the HC/HC community. Although the responsibilities to the HC/HC community may sometimes be hard to balance with the demands of academic life, in many ways one’s future service to the Church and society will require a similar balance.

The President is ultimately responsible for admission to, and participation in, the seminarian program. The President is also responsible for overall implementation and effectiveness of the Spiritual Formation and Counseling Services Office, which affirms a holistic view of formation. All students interested in the seminarian program must complete a separate application and complete the pre-admission requirements as detailed in the Seminarian Program Checklist. The candidate’s dossier must be completed before being considered for the program. More information about the seminarian program is in the Student Handbook.

The office’s co-directors also advise the President on a student’s readiness for church ministry (including, but not limited to, the participants of the seminarian program). Participation in activities promoting spiritual and psychological formation and development are expected of the seminarians and seminarian candidates.

Spiritual Fathers Program
In keeping with the tradition of the Orthodox Church, students and families of students are encouraged to establish and to maintain an ongoing relationship with a spiritual father. The Office of SF/CS staff can help in selecting a spiritual father if necessary. The spiritual father guides the development of Christian character and nurtures spiritual development.
Maintenance of a relationship with one’s spiritual father is essential to participate in the seminarian program. The seminarian’s spiritual father will be his sponsor and signer of the symmartyria to be read at ordination. Students in some instances are referred by the spiritual assessment provider to their spiritual father to discuss pastoral concerns.

Counseling and Referrals
Counselors assist students and their families in resolving a wide variety of problems. Our counselors provide short-term counseling (with referrals as needed), crisis intervention and educational seminars to the students and their families. In most cases, students contact a counselor directly by calling 617-850-1289 or by dropping in at the office. Students experiencing academic difficulties can also come by. A spiritual father, faculty or staff member may also refer students for assistance. Seminarian candidates may be referred for counseling subsequent to their psychological evaluation.

Spiritual Assessment
Using instruments, interviews and reflective assessments, students will have opportunities to address their spiritual and pastoral concerns. The assessment is ongoing, occurring before and during the seminarian program. required. This service is available to any interested student but is required for the seminarians.

Psychological Assessment
This resource exists to strengthen and enhance the students’ emotional growth. It is required for those entering the seminarian program but any student may ask about using this service.

Financial Aid Overview

Hellenic College and Holy Cross offer a program of financial assistance to those students who qualify. Financial assistance may be offered in the form of scholarships, grants, assistantships, loans, and employment. Awards are based on academic performance, special skills, demonstrated need, and the availability of funds. Approximately 95% of our students receive some form of financial aid. The Office of Financial Aid and the Office of Admissions will be glad to discuss how a student’s particular needs can be met.

Loans provide students with the opportunity to borrow against future earnings. Several loan programs supported by the federal government are available on the basis of financial need. Work/study opportunities on campus make it possible for students to defray the cost of their education through part-time employment.

All students are expected to contribute to their education. All financial aid awards are considered supplemental to the contribution of the family and the student. A student must: be accepted into the School, be enrolled in a degree program, be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States, be in good academic standing and make satisfactory academic progress as outlined by School and federal standards, and complete all necessary applications on a timely basis in order to be eligible for federal funds. All forms are available in the Office of Financial Aid.

Vocational Grants (Leadership 100 Scholarship and Leadership 100 Seminarian Funding)

Students who are enrolled at Holy Cross or Hellenic College and who have declared in writing their intention to be ordained as priests in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, or upon graduation agree to work on a full time basis, for a period of time, for one or more of the Ministries of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, and meet certain academic and performance based standards, are eligible for Leadership 100 scholarship grants. Master of Divinity students are provided first priority as Leadership 100 scholarship grants are disbursed.

The amount funded under each of the student grants is determined by the Administration each year. The average Leadership 100 scholarship award addressed approximately 41% of the seminarian’s bill for tuition, room & board for the academic year 2007/2008.

The amount of funding received by each student shall be deemed a grant upon the student’s ordination to the priesthood or upon the student’s completion of service to one or more of the Ministries of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America for a minimum period of six months for each year the student is a recipient of Leadership 100 funds. The amount of funding received by each student who is not ordained to the priesthood or who does not so serve one or more of the Ministries of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America shall be deemed a loan to be repaid by the student upon such terms and conditions as will be determined by the School upon the student’s graduation or other permanent departure from the School. The School may utilize outside third party resources to administer and collect against such loans.

All qualified students will be required to sign a “Declaration Agreement” in order to receive such funding. The signing will occur during registration or financial clearance each semester.

The following are the policies regarding the various discounts and allowances available:

See separate Vocational Funding Policy statement for qualifications and amounts.

The 50% alumni allowance may not be combined with other school offers, and does not become the base to which other school aid is applied.

Students who are candidates for the holy priesthood must accept vocational funding before becoming eligible for this discount.

Employee Allowance
Students who are dependent children of full-time employee of Hellenic College or Holy Cross are guaranteed a minimum 50% discount of the tuition rate OR may choose to take advantage of better school scholarship offers. The College offers a service to the wider Greater Boston area community, the College offers a special rate to individuals who wish to take a course as auditors or for credit. The auditor charge in such cases is a flat fee of $200 and for credit $500 for the course. This does not apply to full- or part-time students.

Teacher Assistantship Program
The Teacher Assistantship Program provides students with part-time positions assisting full-time members of the faculties. Candidates are selected by individual faculty members in conjunction with the Financial Aid Office.

Work Study Program
The Work Study Program offers a variety of part-time employment opportunities on campus. Students are selected based on demonstrated financial need and depending on the availability of positions. Work study jobs are assigned by the Financial Aid Office. Exchange students are not eligible for employment.

Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grant
Limited federal funds are available to students under the Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) Program. Grants are awarded according to School and federal guidelines, based on financial need.

Federal Stafford Loan Program
The Federal Stafford Loan Program provides students with the opportunity to borrow money from a bank, credit union or savings and loan association in order to pay for their education. The total annual amount that a student may borrow is based on a student’s status and year of study and varies from year to year according to Federal guidelines.

All Federal Stafford Loans are repaid by the students. Under the Subsidized Loan Program, students begin their repayment six months after they complete their programs of study. The federal government subsidizes the interest while the student is in school. The interest on unsubsidized Federal Stafford loans is not subsidized by the federal government and can either be paid by the student during his or her program of study or may be deferred until six months after the student finishes school. If the student chooses to have the interest accrued, it will capitalize and the principal of the loan will increase significantly.

Applying for Financial Aid
Hellenic College encourages its present and prospective students to research the financial aid picture to keep abreast of any new funding programs. Every effort should be made to pursue any local awards that may be offered in your community after realizing the expenses involved. Hellenic College requires all students who wish to be considered for financial assistance to submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, FAFSA (www.fafsa.ed.gov). A FAFSA is used to determine your eligibility for federal financial aid and/or grants. Once an Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) has been determined, the form is sent to Hellenic College to be used in determining eligibility for all financial aid programs. The student must also complete the Hellenic College financial aid form.

Academic Programs

The academic courses offered are intended to provide the student with significant exposure to the various disciplines of Orthodox theology. While offering courses in each of these areas, the faculty of Holy Cross seeks to keep the disciplines integrated and related to life in the contemporary world. The thread that unites the major disciplines is the apostolic faith, life and witness as it is lived and interpreted in the liturgical tradition of Orthodoxy and in the writings of the Fathers of the Church. The faculty is committed to bringing the example and the teachings of the Fathers to bear upon the issues and challenges of contemporary life. This constitutes more than an academic principle of organization. It is a spiritual perspective, an ethos that permeates every aspect of the educational endeavor at Holy Cross.

The study of Orthodox theology is undertaken within the lived witness and fulfillment of the teachings of Jesus Christ, the participation in the holy sacraments, and the life of prayer. The faculty of Holy Cross, therefore, encourages the students of theology to study the content of the Christian revelation and to appropriate, in a personal way, that saving revelation. All Orthodox students at Holy Cross are expected to share in the liturgical life of the community and to contribute to its well being under the guidance of their spiritual fathers and their academic advisors while specific expectations are placed upon those students who are preparing for ordination.

Required courses are arranged in set patterns for both pedagogical and scheduling reasons. Most required courses are offered only once during the academic year. Students are encouraged to follow the sequence of required courses so as to avoid scheduling conflicts.
Master of Divinity

The Master of Divinity degree (M.Div.) is the preferred graduate degree in theology for those interested in all forms of ministry in church and society, and especially for those preparing for ordination in the Orthodox Church. The program provides a comprehensive introduction to the various disciplines of Orthodox theology and the ministerial arts especially through directed formation opportunities and the field education program.

The program is open to qualified students who have a bachelor’s degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university. The program is designed primarily for students who are preparing for ordination or other expressions of ministry in the Orthodox Church, giving students a foundation in both academic theological disciplines and practical ministry through field education. Consequently, this program of study is required for students preparing for ordination in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and is strongly recommended for students who are preparing for ordination in other Orthodox jurisdictions. Applicants who are preparing for ordination (seminarians) and who have recently joined the Orthodox Church are normally expected to have spent a minimum of two years living an active life in an Orthodox parish community prior to enrolling into the M.Div. program. In addition, other students are who are not candidates for ordination (non-seminarians) but who desire to obtain a professional degree in pastoral ministry are encouraged to enroll.

The degree of Master of Divinity is awarded to regular students in good standing who have satisfactorily completed the course of study with an average grade not lower than C (2.00), and these requirements:

1. A minimum of 92 credit hours of course work for students in the three-year program. Additional course work in Greek and other studies is required under the four-year program.
2. Supervised field education as prescribed by the faculty;
3. If elected, the successful completion of a thesis in accordance with the “Guide for the Preparation of the M.Div. Thesis.” A copy of the guide may be obtained from the director of the M.Div. thesis program. This replaces 6 credit hours of electives;

There are four M.Div. programs. These are outlined below, together with their particular version(s) of the M.Div. program.

Seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese

Seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese are admitted to one of two versions of the M.Div. program according to their qualifications. Those who are graduates of Hellenic College enroll in a three-year program, while those who have received their bachelor’s degrees from other institutions enroll in the four-year program. The difference lies in certain courses which graduates of Hellenic College will already have had which are unlikely to have been taken by graduates of other schools. These courses include New Testament Greek, Modern Greek (which fulfills an important pastoral need within the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese), Byzantine music and introductory courses in the Old and New Testaments.

Seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese are required, in addition, to fulfill the following:

1. Take a voice review during orientation and, if required, at least one semester of voice class before graduating.
2. Participate in the Holy Week seminar during the student’s first year of study.; Participate in the Archdiocesan Seminar held in New York during the spring semester of the senior year;
3. Participate in the Summer Program Abroad, which is normally held at the end of the student’s middle year;

NOTE: Students who already have a Master of Theological Studies from Holy Cross and who wish to enroll in the Master of Divinity degree program may receive a maximum of forty-five (45) credits advanced standing towards fulfillment of the Master of Divinity degree requirements. The Dean will determine which requirements need to be satisfied in consultation with the faculty. A minimum additional residency of one and one-half years is required.
Master of Theology

The Master of Theology (Th.M.) program is an advanced course of studies which builds on the first graduate-level theological degree, normally the Master of Divinity. The primary goal of the program is to provide scholarly concentration in a particular area of theology in the context of an Orthodox community. It is intended for candidates who: a) may later pursue studies at the doctoral level; b) seek some forms of teaching in the future; c) desire scholarly enhancement of their priestly or ministerial practice; or d) are interested in personal theological and spiritual enrichment. Although it is of particular interest to Orthodox students who have received their first graduate theological degree from Orthodox theological schools in the United States and abroad. The program welcomes all qualified applicants.

Admission Requirements
Admission into the program requires the Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent, such as the Licentiate of Theology awarded to graduates of Orthodox schools of theology from abroad. Applicants who hold only the Master of Theological Studies degree (M.T.S.) or its equivalent are normally required to complete an additional four theology courses (12 credits) prior to their matriculation into the Th.M. program. Applicants must have demonstrated previous academic work of high quality (3.3 grade average or better) and an aptitude for critical thinking and independent study under faculty supervision. All applicants must submit a copy of a research paper submitted in a graduate level course in one of the disciplines of Theology. Language requirements include intermediate knowledge of New Testament or Patristic Greek, proficiency in English, and a reading knowledge of one of the following: French, German, Greek, or Russian. All applicants must complete the Graduate Record Exam (GRE, the School code number is R-34496). Students should bear in mind that GRE scores are viable for only five years after the date the exam is taken. International applicants must show competence in English by scoring at least 550 or 80 for the computer-based testing on the TOEFL exam (Holy Cross code number 9794).

Program Administration
The Th.M. program is under the supervision of the faculty, which works through the Th.M. Committee appointed annually by the Dean. The Director of the Th.M. program, also appointed by the Dean, chairs the committee. The Director’s duties involve providing information to applicants on all matters pertaining to the program, advising them regarding courses and registration, keeping appropriate records on behalf of the Committee and generally overseeing the entire program. The Th.M. Committee deliberates on all policy and curricular changes and recommends proposals to the faculty for final decision.

Degree Requirements
The Master of Theology degree is awarded upon the successful completion of: a) twenty-four credits of course work with a grade average of 3.3 or better; b) a thesis of 75-100 pages in length; and c) a one-year residence. The program is also open to qualified part-time students. However, all candidates must complete the program, including the acceptance of the thesis, within a period of up to four years.

Course Requirements
Th.M. students normally enroll in upper-level courses (numbered 7000), whether lectures, seminars, or tutorials. All candidates will complete at least 12 credits or four courses at the upper level. Courses at the 6000 level may be taken according to a student’s program needs and under the supervision of the Director. Candidates without a previous degree in Orthodox theology are required to complete two additional core courses, one in patristic studies and one in dogmatic theology, beyond the twenty-four required course credits. Students will be expected to meet all the requirements for these courses and will receive a Pass/Fail grade. A minimum of 15 credits or five courses must be completed at Holy Cross, while the remaining 9 credits or three courses may be taken through member schools of the Boston Theological Institute (BTI) or other accredited theological schools.
Concentration
Upon enrollment in the program candidates must choose a concentration among the basic fields of theology: a) biblical (Old and New Testaments); b) historical (Church History and Patristics); c) systematic (Dogmatics and Ethics), and d) practical (Liturgics, Canon Law, and Pastoral Theology). Four courses in any of the above fields is considered a concentration. The remaining four courses are to be selected from fields other than one’s area of concentration.

International Students
Immigration status is only granted for a period of two (2) years for foreign national students when enrolled in the Th.M. degree program. No extension will be granted beyond the two (2) year degree program. Optional Practicum Training (OPT) is not available for Th.M. degree recipients.

Thesis Seminar
A Thesis Seminar for all Th.M. candidates will be convened twice each semester. The initial meeting in the fall semester will provide an opportunity to review the program requirements and to hear progress reports from each ongoing Th.M. candidate. An ongoing student will present his or her latest research for discussion at subsequent meetings. When possible, the reporting student’s advisor and members of the Th.M. committee will be asked to attend.

Thesis
The thesis will be written in the area of concentration in close collaboration with a faculty advisor chosen by the student from among the faculty teaching in that field. The student and the advisor are primarily responsible for the substance of the thesis project. The thesis, which is to be no less than seventy-five pages and up to one hundred, must demonstrate critical understanding and competent research at an advanced level. All the appropriate forms and information regarding the thesis may be obtained from the Director who oversees the whole process. Requirements include the writing of a prospectus, approved by the Th.M. Committee, defining the thesis topic, methodology and organization. The thesis is read by the student’s faculty advisor and by one other individual approved by the faculty advisor and the Director of the Th.M. program. The thesis must be completed within the four-year period allowed for the fulfillment of all requirements. Beyond the one-year residence, candidates must register each semester to continue in the program and are charged a continuation fee of $50.00 annually until the acceptance of the final version of the thesis. The completed thesis is due by the end of January for a May graduation to allow for reading by the other individual chosen by the Director in consultation with the advisor, and for subsequent revisions by the student. The final version of the thesis is due by the end of April, at which time the advisor and the second reader will each submit a brief evaluation and a grade to the Director. Each Th.M. candidate, upon completion and acceptance of the thesis will be required to make a formal presentation of his or her work to the School community at a public lecture.

Finances
Candidates are eligible for financial assistance. Students seeking financial aid should apply through the student financial aid office. Scholarships are available also to full-time applicants of high credentials through the recommendation of the Th.M. Committee.
Special Program for the Diaconate

The Special Program for the Diaconate is an educational and formational initiative of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology offered in conjunction with the Holy Synod of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America.

The on campus program is designed to prepare a candidate for the ordained diaconate. The candidate must be a committed and mature Orthodox Christian who has been active in a parish and who senses a calling from the Lord to serve the Church in the diaconal ministry. The program is the basis for other meetings and studies required by the local Metropolitan and complemented by service in a parish under the tutelage of the priest.

The program is designed especially for persons who are members of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America and who have the blessing of their Metropolitan to participate. Persons from other Orthodox jurisdictions may also apply to participate in the program. This program is not designed for persons who sense a calling to the priesthood.

Students will receive a Certificate of Study from Holy Cross upon the successful completion of the Special Diaconate Program.

Further information on this Program may be obtained from the Office of Admissions.
Field Education

Theological Foundation
The theological foundation upon which the field education program rests is the conviction that theological studies cannot be separated from or unrelated to church life. There is an intimate and necessary relationship between theological study, worship and loving service to others. The field education program manifests the relationship among worship, theological study and service to God’s people as an integral part of preparation for service to the Church in today’s world. The supervised field education experiences offered have one fundamental concern: to assist students in deepening their relationship to God and to nurture their vocation to serve God through the Church.

Structure
All students in the M.Div. degree program are required to complete six semesters of supervised field education in order to be certified for graduation. The actual time required for field education during the semester will vary, depending upon the particular demands of each project and the student’s responsibilities.

Programs
Programs available to students in the School of Theology include the following:
1. Religious Education/Youth Ministry: The focus of this program is religious nurture and development;
2. Parish Ministry: The focus of this program is centered on the various aspects of parish life. These include pastoral visitations, preaching, worship, and administration;
3. Hospital Ministry: ministry to the sick and suffering. The program takes place at area hospitals and is coordinated from the seminary;
4. Ministry to the Elderly: The focus of this program is on the specific needs and concerns of the aged and infirm. The program takes place within the context of the Hospital Ministry Program at both the Hellenic Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Canton, Massachusetts and the Holy Trinity Nursing Home in Worcester, Massachusetts;
5. Campus Ministry: The focus of this program is on serving the spiritual needs of college students in the Greater Boston area;
6. Prison Ministry: ministry to inmates of area correctional institutions;
7. Summer Ministry: Specific programs offered during the summer months may be credited toward the supervised field education requirements with the approval of the Director of Field Education. Such programs may include church-related projects and camping ministry;
8. Orthodox Mission Internships: Involvement in the missions projects sponsored by the Orthodox Christian Missions Center (OCMC);
9. BTI Field Education Programs: students may enroll in supervised field education programs made available by the member schools of the Boston Theological Institute with the approval of the Director of Field Education;

Special Programs

BTI Certificate Programs
The Boston Theological Institute, a consortium of nine theological schools in the Boston area of which Holy Cross is a member, offers two certificate programs to students registered in one of the BTI schools. The Certificate in Science and Religion and the Certificate in International Mission and Ecumenism are awarded to students who have successfully completed particular course and seminar requirements of the respective certificate programs. The certificate programs encourage students to take advantage of the academic, theological, and pastoral resources of the BTI member schools. Visit the BTI website at www.bostontheological.org, for more information about these certificate programs.

Summer Program Abroad
Students enrolled in the Master of Divinity Program participate in a study and travel program in Greece and at the Ecumenical Patriarchate in Istanbul, Turkey during the summer between their middler and senior year. The trip is an educational excursion and pilgrimage to various sites of historical, cultural, and ecclesiastical significance in the worlds of Hellenism, Early Christianity, Byzantium and the Orthodox Christian heritage. Students take part in an intensive course in Modern Greek language as part of the program.

The Office of Vocation and Ministry
The Office of Vocation & Ministry (OVM) defines vocation as one’s unique and ongoing response to Christ’s call to love God with heart, soul, mind and strength, and the neighbor as oneself. It seeks to encourage all constituents to consider their life as vocation and to nurture the next generation of leaders who are called to full-time ministry in the Church, whether to the ordained priesthood or to lay ministry. The OVM offers vocational exploration programs for Hellenic College undergraduates, a summer program for high school students known as CrossRoad, and opportunities for faculty at Hellenic College—along with Orthodox faculty across the nation—to develop their vocations through symposia and grants. The OVM also provides funding for the North American Office for Orthodox Christian Fellowship (OCF), a North American, inter-Orthodox effort, to develop and coordinate campus ministry programs focused on vocation. Holy Cross graduate students are invited to take part in many of the programs geared for undergraduates and to the OVM coffee hospitality in Skouras Room 220. Each fall the OVM hires talented graduate students to serve as staff for its CrossRoad program. CrossRoad staff receive training in youth ministry that is unparalleled in our Church today.

Junior Year Abroad in Greece
As a recognized school of theology by the government of Greece, Holy Cross is the recipient of a limited number of annual scholarships for its students to study at the schools of theology of the Universities of Athens and Thessaloniki. These scholarships are provided by the Government Scholarships Foundation in Greece (commonly referred by the acronym I.K.Y.). Each scholarship covers full tuition, provides a monthly stipend for an entire academic year, and covers part of the cost of the airfare between Boston and Greece. Normally, the I.K.Y. Scholarship is awarded for study in Greece during the second or third year of a three- or four-year course of study at Holy Cross. A student must be of Greek descent to be eligible for the scholarship, demonstrate proficiency in the Greek language, and petition the faculty of Holy Cross for its approval. Information and application materials can be obtained from the Office of the Dean.

Exchange Program with St. Vladimir’s Seminary
Holy Cross and St. Vladimir’s Orthodox Theological Seminary, located in Crestwood, NY, offer an annual student exchange program for interested and qualified students. The exchange program allows the exchange student to spend one semester (fall or spring) at the host institution. The exchange student pays all applicable tuition and fees for the semester to his or her home institution. Interested Holy Cross students should speak with the Dean for more information. Students normally participate in the program during their middler year.
Holy Cross and Aristotelian University of Thessaloniki Educational Cooperation
Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology and the Theological School of the Aristotelian University of Thessalonike have created a formal educational cooperative for the purpose of the mutual enrichment of the advanced theological programs of studies offered at the two institutions. This collaboration allows for the formal exchange of faculty and students between the two institutions. Specifically, graduating students of Holy Cross are encouraged to continue their postgraduate specializations through this program. Additionally, the two Schools publish proceedings of their joint theological conferences and the results of their theological research.

Holy Cross Fellowship
The School makes available a limited number of fellowships for international scholars from canonical Orthodox Churches who wish to experience theological education and church life in the United States, audit advanced courses at Holy Cross and the BTI and pursue theological research. Each Fellow works out a plan of study with the Dean and a personal faculty consultant. The Fellow, in addition to the programs of studies, may be asked to offer lectures, lead group discussions and participate in other activities of the School. An applicant is required to submit curriculum vitae, a letter verifying his or her status and a brief statement describing the plan of study/research for the time in residence at Holy Cross.

Fellow In-Residence Program
Holy Cross seeks to assist the advancement of Orthodox studies by accepting established scholars as well as doctoral candidates as Fellows In-Residence to engage in research, teaching, publications and other scholarly activities related to Orthodox studies. Inquiries may be addressed to the Office of the President. A cover letter, two recommendations from colleagues or former instructors, as well as a proposal of five pages or more, presenting one’s scholarly plans and objectives must be submitted to the Office of the President. The Dean and the faculty who will make recommendations to the President will review the dossier. One Fellow is appointed at a time, either for a period of one semester, or for an entire year. The appointment ends with the completion either of the semester or the academic year. The Fellow is offered room, board and a stipend; in return he or she may be asked to give one or more lectures in their area of specialization, sharing the findings of his or her research with the faculty and community.

The Office of Social Concerns
The Office of Social Concerns focuses on creating a keener awareness within the Hellenic College/Holy Cross community of the wide range of social problems occurring locally and worldwide. As an Orthodox Christian community we have the desire and the responsibility to address and pray for the challenges and sufferings that our wounded humanity faces. This office serves also to inspire the HC/HC community to take action in response to the needs of all of God’s people, and to facilitate that outreach.
Special Institutes

The Stephen and Catherine Pappas Patristic Institute
Established through a generous gift from Stephen and Catherine Pappas, the Patristic Institute seeks the advancement and promotion of patristic studies in the service of the academy and of the Church. The primary emphasis of the Institute is the study of the Greek patristic tradition broadly understood with special attention given to the way in which, characteristic of Orthodox theology, patristic theology is integral to all of Christian theology. In particular, the Institute supports the publication of theological texts and monographs on important themes, personalities and aspects of the Christian tradition and also sponsors conferences and lectures that intend to illuminate and communicate the inexhaustible richness of the Church’s history.

The Mary Jaharis Center for Byzantine Art and Culture
As a result of a major endowment by Mary and Michael Jaharis in 2007, Hellenic College-Holy Cross established the Mary Jaharis Center for Byzantine Art and Culture. The Institute will provide opportunities to study the rich religious, cultural, artistic, historical and political aspects of the Byzantine world and the role of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. The Institute will focus upon five areas of interest and research: Byzantine Artifacts, Iconography; Architecture; Literature and Music. The Institute will host seminars, conferences and exhibitions. It will also contribute to courses in the college and school of theology. In accordance with the benefactors’ wishes, the faculties believe that the Institute will become the premier research center in North America for studies related to the Byzantine world.

This course will discuss the Orthodox understanding of death and life after death, the human process of grief and ministering to the bereaved, focusing on the theological, psychological and pastoral issues of death and dying. Topics discussed will include thanatology, the remembrance of death, theories of grief, end-of-life issues, hospice and palliative care, bereavement support, living wills and advanced directives and the role of the pastor in end-of-life issues.

Spring Dr. Mamalakis

PAST 7015 Pastoral Counseling: Theory and Practice
Listening is at the heart of pastoral counseling. Yet what the pastor/minister hears is shaped by his/her theoretical orientation, belief system, worldview and lived experience. This course seeks to give students the opportunity to study different pastoral counseling theories as they go beyond the limits of their own stories in the context of practicing foundational counseling skills.

Fall Dr. Mamalakis

PAST 7112 Addiction and Spirituality
This course will approach addiction with a broader understanding of the term. Students will learn that the addictive process is an expression of progressive, spiritual disease. This has profound and inter-related ramifications in the psychological, emotional, cognitive and physical domains. The addictive process also has serious consequences within relationships at home within the society at work and in the Church. Resources from Orthodox theology, spirituality, psychology and the addictions’ field (with particular emphasis on the 12 Step-Self Help Movement) will be studied. Opportunities for personal reflection and expressions of pastoral response will also be explored.

Fall Dr. Kyriaki FitzGerald

PAST 7201 Preaching: Proclaiming the Kingdom
This course is a preparation for the ministry of proclaiming the word of the kingdom. Students are exposed to the theology of preaching, methods of interpretation, preparation and production of sermons. Lectures examine the listening assembly and the listening pulpit, the liturgy and the homily, experiencing and expressing the word. The emphasis is on the prophetic, as well as on the practical dimension of preaching. While this course is taught in the fall semester, the practical segment continues in the spring semester.

PAST 7212 Preaching Practicum
A required practicum for those enrolled in PAST 7201.

PAST 7360 World Religions and Missions
We will look at humanity’s quest for God from the beginning of time, and how four of the world’s major religious traditions – Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, and Buddhism – developed. Along with their history, we will study their main teachings, world view and practice. Part of the class will include visiting temples of the other faiths. We will also look at the phenomenon of atheism and its own religious perspective. With each of these different religions, we will discuss Orthodox Christianity’s understanding of other religions, and how we are to dialogue and interact with them, trying to discover elements that could be acceptable within Orthodox Christianity and how these bridges could be used in sharing our faith within other religions.

Fall Fr. Veronis

PAST 7361 Introduction to Orthodox Missiology
We will study the biblical, theological, liturgical and historical perspective of Orthodox missiology, emphasizing how missions should be an essential element of the Orthodox Church’s identity – on the individual, local parish, and archdiocesan level. We will discuss the various missiological methods and characteristics throughout the centuries. We will be introduced to the latest concepts and debates in missiological circles, looking at world statistics, unreached peoples, the 10/40 window, tent-making, evangelism to closed countries, and mobilizing the local church to respond to the needs of today.

Spring Fr. Veronis

Greek forms of diction and for an in depth understanding of the texts under consideration. The study of the texts is done using the tools of

It also provides icons, icon prints, incense, prayer ropes, crosses, and recordings, as well as scholarly and popular books on theology, history, religious art, and Greek culture and civilization.

Holy Cross Orthodox Press
The earliest publications of the Press date back nearly to the founding of Holy Cross in 1937. From its modest beginnings, the Press has grown into a significant publisher of over 500 books chiefly in the disciplines of Orthodox spirituality, theology, patristic, liturgics, history and culture. The Press has published books from well-known Orthodox authors as well as notable authors from other traditions. In recent years, the Press has also published numerous liturgical texts and a series of patristic texts newly translated into contemporary English. The publications of the Press, together with The Greek Orthodox Theological Review, have contributed to the advancement of Orthodox theological studies and the development of the Church not only in North America but also throughout the world.

The Greek Orthodox Theological Review
Established in 1954 by the faculty of Holy Cross, the Review has been concerned both with examining historical themes and with engaging the critical theological issues facing the Church today. It is a journal through which scholarly studies have been shared, new books have been reviewed, and significant documents have been preserved. The content of the Review reflects the rich development of Orthodox theology and theological concerns over the past fifty years.
