Theological Education for Leadership in Ministry and Service

Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology is a unique community of Orthodox faith and worship, learning and service. Centered upon Jesus Christ and His Gospel, Holy Cross is the graduate School of Theology and Seminary founded in 1937 and supported by the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, a province of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. The mission of Holy Cross is to provide theological education and formation for future clergy and lay leaders of the Church and society. The call to ministry has always been viewed as a vocation. Each vocation must be nurtured and supported in a community of faith, learning, and worship.

Holy Cross has the responsibility of preparing future clergy for the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and a number of other Orthodox jurisdictions. This is a sacred responsibility. The mission and well-being of our Church requires clergy who have a strong devotion to Christ, nurtured by theological education, spiritual disciplines, pastoral in-sights, and leadership skills.

Holy Cross also has the responsibility of preparing other men and women who desire to serve the Church and society with the benefit of theological education and spiritual formation. Many look to serving in positions such as chaplains, theologians, missionaries, parish administrators, religious educators, counselors, iconographers, and church musicians. The call to ministry has always been viewed as a vocation. Each vocation must be nurtured and supported in a community of faith, learning, and worship.

Holy Cross has educated over a thousand clergy and lay leaders who are serving, or who have served, in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and other Orthodox jurisdictions both in this country and in other parts of the world. Graduates of Holy Cross are leading the Church here in North America as well as in South America, Europe, Africa, and Asia. Holy Cross embodies the historic educational mission of the Ecumenical Patriarchate and its Archdiocese in America.

Theological and Pastoral Programs
Holy Cross offers exceptional opportunities for graduate level Orthodox theological education and formation on a beautiful campus in Brookline, Massachusetts, overlooking the city of Boston. The School offers three graduate degree programs to qualified students who have completed undergraduate studies. The programs include courses in Biblical Studies, Church History and Ecumenism, Patristics, Dogmatic Theology, Ethics, Liturgics, Canon Law, Pastoral Theology, Church Music, and Ancient and Modern Languages.

The Master of Divinity (MDiv) is a three or four-year program designed for students seeking comprehensive theological and ministerial education, as well as those who seek to serve the Church as clergy or as lay leaders. A supervised Field Education Program is part of the degree requirements. This degree program is required for seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese who sense a calling to the priesthood.

The Master of Theological Studies (MTS) is a two-year program designed for students seeking an introduction to the various disciplines of Orthodox theology.

The Master of Theology (ThM) is a one-year program of advanced theological studies including a thesis in a specialized discipline. It is designed primarily for students who already have the M.Div. degree.

The Program for the Diaconate is designed especially for those who sense a call to serve as ordained deacons. Courses are offered during three summer sessions and relate to additional programs offered at the Metropolis and parish levels. This program is not designed for those who sense a call to the priesthood.

The Certificate in Byzantine Music program equips students with a mastery of the skills required for chanting the sacred hymns of the Orthodox Church. The program provides thorough knowledge of the psaltic notational system, the theoretical framework of the modal system, the ability to sight-read musical scores at all levels of complexity and an extensive familiarity with the contents and usage of liturgical books and the rubrics of the Orthodox Church.

Holy Cross also offers special lectures and conferences during the academic year. They are open to clergy and laity as well as to scholars and non-degree candidates. Our library, containing over 75,000 volumes, is a significant center of research for our faculty, students, and visiting scholars.

The influence of Holy Cross reaches far beyond our Brookline campus. Our faculty, students, and graduates have had a profound impact upon Orthodox theological reflection, parish life, and missionary activity throughout the world. Through our community life and academic programs, Holy Cross emphasizes the intimate relationship be- tween the study of Orthodox theology, worship, and service to others. Our community is centered upon Jesus Christ and His Gospel as it is known, lived, and taught by the Orthodox Church.

Faithful and Well-Prepared Leaders for the Church and Society

The education of future clergy and lay leaders at Holy Cross is multidimensional. Through worship, graduate theological studies, and community life, students are challenged to deepen their understanding of the various areas of Orthodox theology, to cultivate an attitude of faithful service to others, and to be persons of prayer.

We expect our future clergy and lay leaders to be persons of faith who appreciate our rich heritage of Orthodox Christian faith, learning, culture, and philanthropy. We also expect them to be caring persons who are well aware of the pastoral needs of all God’s people. We expect them to be thoughtful people who are aware of the realities of today’s society. The expectations of our clergy and lay leaders are great because the needs are great.

Our Students

We have a remarkable student body, both men and women, in our three graduate degree programs. These students are bound together by their devotion to Jesus Christ and a desire to serve as His ambassadors. Many are “second career” students with families. The majority of our students are preparing for ministry in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, yet they come from a variety of backgrounds and have different degrees of preparation. The makeup of our student body reflects the changing demographics and missionary activity of the Church.

We also have students from other Orthodox and Oriental Orthodox jurisdictions in this country, including the Antiochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese, the Orthodox Church in America, the Ukrainian Orthodox Church, the Serbian Orthodox Church, and the Coptic Orthodox Church.

International students come from Orthodox Churches in a number of countries, including Greece, Kenya, Uganda, Albania, Bulgaria, Romania, Lebanon, Canada, Georgia, Serbia, the United Kingdom, and China. The presence of these students enriches our community and contributes to cross-cultural understanding. The presence of international students indicates that Holy Cross is recognized throughout the world as a renowned center of Orthodox theological education and formation.

The Faculty

Holy Cross faculty members are widely recognized for their teaching and their contributions to theological scholarship, conferences, and retreats. Many are involved in ecumenical and interfaith dialogues. A number contribute to the ministries of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, to the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, and to the Assembly of Canonical Orthodox Bishops of the USA. All the members of the faculty are called to be faithful teachers, mentors, and role models. Serving as a faculty member at Holy Cross does not simply require scholarly credentials. It also requires a commitment to Christ as known through the Orthodox Faith, a dedication to the students and the well-being of the community. Our small classes encourage close interaction between faculty and students.

History and Mission

Holy Cross is a community of faith and learning, of heritage and service. Men and women from all parts of America and the world come to Holy Cross each year to pursue graduate study in the various disciplines of Orthodox theology. This study takes place in an atmosphere of prayer, shared convictions, and common values which are rooted in the reality of Jesus Christ and the saving truths of the Gospel as received and proclaimed by the Orthodox Church.

Holy Cross was founded in 1937 and first located in Pomfret, Connecticut. Its initial purpose was to prepare future priests and teachers to serve the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese. Since that time, Holy Cross has served as the only seminary and school of theology of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese in the Americas. In 1946, the School moved to Brookline, Massachusetts, where the students and faculty could take advantage of the unprecedented educational and cultural opportunities of Greater Boston. In response to the emerging needs of the Church, and by virtue of its own academic maturation, in 1966 Holy Cross expanded its collegiate division into a full four-year liberal arts college, a distinct undergraduate institution known as Hellenic College. Today the faculties and students of the undergraduate and graduate schools continue to form one community, sharing the same campus and facilities. However, the two schools are academically separate entities. Holy Cross offers graduate programs of study leading to the degrees of Master of Divinity (MDiv), Master of Theological Studies (MTS), and Master of Theology (ThM). Holy Cross has developed into an accredited graduate school of theology, and as such has become one of the most important institutions of the Orthodox Church in the Western hemisphere.

At Holy Cross, education is viewed as an integration of learning and faith. While committed to providing excellence in teaching, learning, and scholarship, the Holy Cross programs also reflect the religious and cultural values of the Orthodox tradition, values expressed in the historic witness and mission of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. Holy Cross strives to fulfill the need of the Orthodox Church to educate each generation of leaders, clergy, and laypersons who share a common experience of learning, faith, and a commitment to service. These are men and women who will exemplify the values of the Gospel as expressed through the historic Orthodox Christian faith.

The School is engaged in a variety of teaching, scholarship, service, and worship activities directed toward developing the intellectual and spiritual potential of its students, as well as enabling the faculty to pursue teaching and scholarship in their various disciplines with academic freedom. The School is a community which encourages personal maturity, faith commitment, and a desire to contribute to the well-being of the Church and society.

Holy Cross is located in the Greater Boston area, known as the “Athens of America.” It is well known for its numerous colleges and universities. As a center of learning, the city is rich in religious, cultural, educational, artistic, and athletic opportunities. Our own campus offers a variety of cultural activities and intramural sports. The underlying source of all of our experiences is our deep commitment to our Orthodox Christian faith and learning, to heritage and service, which allows us to blend a unified vision of the past, present, and future in all that we do.

Holy Cross also is concerned with the advancement of Orthodox thought and life. Through research, publications, and ecumenical encounters, it seeks to provide opportunities for sound theological reflection on vital issues facing the Church and society. The School is a source of renewal and continuing education for those already engaged in ministry. It is dedicated to the task of helping men and women fulfill their calling in various ministries through scholarly reflection and faithful discipleship in the midst of the complexities and responsibilities of contemporary life.
Theological education involves much more than purely academic endeavors. In the true spirit of Orthodox Christianity, formal educational growth, academic excellence, and spiritual formation are inseparably connected. Life at Holy Cross, in all its diverse aspects, is a dynamic process, which takes place at the level of shared concerns centered on the values, spirit, and worship of the Orthodox Church. Students experience the ethos and substance, the thought and tradition, the life and practice, of the catholic and apostolic faith. Worship is central to the life of our community. Prayer and the sacramental life are indispensable to spiritual nurture. Holy Cross is thus concerned not only with the academic, but also with the spiritual and moral, development of students. The theological student is one who strives not only to gain a deep understanding of the faith, but also to live this faith with all its transformative power and practical implications in the course of daily life.

Instructional Location
Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology’s instructional location is on the Hellenic College Holy Cross campus located at 50 Goddard Avenue, Brookline, Massachusetts 02445. All administrative and academic offices are located on the Brookline Campus.

Regular Students
The term “regular student” is used for all students, including transfer, exchange, and international students, who have been accepted into one of the three degree programs offered by Holy Cross, and who pursue the degree requirements on a full-time basis. The course load for a full-time regular student depends on the degree program in which he or she is enrolled. A student is considered full-time when he or she is taking a minimum of 12 credits per semester. Full-time tuition rates remain the same for any student enrolled in 12 to 18 credits per semester.

Special Students
One may also apply for admission as a special student. Special students are normally those who, for one reason or another, do not technically fulfill all the requirements for admission as a full-time or part-time candidate for a degree. Special student status may be held for only one academic year. Following this, the student must request either full-time or part-time status or withdraw.

Special students are classified according to the following three categories:
1. Those intending to apply for a degree program: A limited number of students who do not technically fulfill all requirements but desire to enroll in degree programs are admitted as special students for a period of up to one academic year. After this, a student must request regular status or withdraw. Special students they are subject to the same regulations as regular students. Applicants in this category follow the same usually are not eligible for seminarian status or for financial assistance from the School. In other respects, procedures and submit the same materials as regular students. Special students are ineligible for federal financial aid as required by the US Department of Education.

2. Non-degree candidates: The School admits a limited number of applicants who desire to take one or more courses, whether for credit or audit, on a non-degree basis. These applicants must demonstrate the capacity to work successfully on the graduate level. They follow simplified application and registration procedures, the appropriate forms for which may be obtained from the Offices of Admissions and the Registrar. Non-degree candidates are ineligible for federal financial aid.

3. Hellenic College seniors: All honor students of Hellenic College, during their senior year, may take one course per semester in the School of Theology with the approval of the Deans of both Schools. Students of Hellenic College who plan to enroll in the School of Theology normally take Old and New Testament Introduction in their senior year and obtain 6 credits toward their college degree. In addition, seniors of Hellenic College who have nearly completed their college requirements and have available openings in their academic program may petition the graduate school faculty for Special Student status by completing the necessary form devised for this purpose. Normally two courses per semester may be taken under this status with the approval of the Deans of both Schools. Credit for such courses is applied toward the theology degree. In no instance is double credit given for any courses (that is, toward the fulfillment of requirements in both the College and School of Theology). Also, upon completion of their undergraduate studies, Hellenic College students who desire to enroll in the School of Theology must fulfill all admission requirements for entering Holy Cross.

Students with special student status are ineligible for federal financial aid, as required by the Department of Education. Students with special student status are ineligible for institutional scholarships.

Transfer Students
Students wishing to transfer to the School of Theology from regionally accredited theological schools and graduate seminaries must normally have a minimum 2.50 grade point average in their previous academic work. Students transferring credit for a course must have earned at least a C in the course from an accredited institution whose catalog is reviewed for the course description. Those courses that are accepted correspond to courses offered by the School, or are related to them and must have been eligible for graduate credit in the institution in which they were taken.

Transfer Credit
While admission to the School of Theology is holistic, students wishing to transfer credit from regionally accredited theological schools and graduate seminaries must normally have a 2.5 cumulative grade point average in their previous academic work.

Students transferring credit for a course must have earned at least a “C” grade in the course. Course(s) accepted for transfer must have been eligible for graduate credit in the institution at which they were taken and, preferably, were completed at an institution accredited by a recognized accrediting body. Further, transfer courses should correspond to course(s) offered by the School of Theology; course descriptions may be requested of the applicant. Normally, credit is granted for each course that is equivalent to a corresponding course at Holy Cross provided the grade is “C” or above.

The Registrar in conjunction with the Dean will evaluate whether courses may be counted for credit within a student’s program and will grant all credit deemed appropriate. Transfer credit requiring additional consideration will be reviewed by the Degree, Policies, and Procedures Committee (DPPC) in conjunction with the Dean. Prior to enrollment, students may receive a tentative degree audit provided by the Office of Admissions. Once enrolled, the student will receive a final degree audit provided by the Registrar’s Office.

Students looking to transfer graduate credit from an unaccredited institution(s) must demonstrate that the course content and the qualifications of the instructors meet the standards of an accredited institution by submitting additional documentation (e.g., course syllabi, faculty biographies, etc.).

Once a student has matriculated at Holy Cross, he or she must complete a Transfer of Credit Pre-Approval form for any coursework outside of Holy Cross in which the student is seeking credit to be granted at Holy Cross. A student may transfer a maximum of 18 credits once matriculated, but must adhere to the residency requirement for their respective program.

Advanced Standing

Holy Cross periodically admits students with advanced standing to one of its master’s degree programs. Advanced standing may be granted (1) without credit by exempting students from some courses but not reducing the total number of academic credits required for the degree, or (2) with credit by reducing the number of credits required for the degree. Advanced standing refers to decisions about students’ competence when no transcripts of graduate credit are presented. Advanced standing with credit is granted only after appropriate means of assessment of a student’s knowledge, competence, or skills that would normally be provided by the specific courses for which they have been admitted with advanced standing. Advanced standing with credit cannot be granted on the basis of ministerial or life experience and may not fulfill more than one-fourth of the total credits for a degree program.

Residency

In order to earn a Holy Cross School of Theology degree, there is a three-year residency requirement for the Master of Divinity degree, and a one-and-one-half year residency requirement for the Master of Theological Studies degree. Students must complete, at a minimum, 50% of the degree requirements for their program at the School of Theology.

Exchange Students

Exchange students are those who are officially registered with other accredited graduate theological schools and seminaries and take one or more courses at Holy Cross, whether for credit or audit. Grades for the courses taken are transmitted to the school in which the student is officially registered. Financial obligations are determined by the protocol between these schools and Holy Cross.

International Students

For foreign national students, immigration status is only granted for a period of two (2) years when enrolled in the Th.M. degree program. No extension will be granted beyond the two (2) year degree program. Optional Practicum Training (OPT) is not available for Th.M. degree recipients. For all other degree-seeking students, the I-20 will be issued for the expected length of the program as outlined in this catalog. No OPT or extensions will be granted.

Part-time Students

The School of Theology accepts a limited number of qualified students as degree candidates on a part-time basis. Tuition is determined on a credit-hour rate. Such part-time students must fulfill all admission requirements. In order to receive federal financial aid, part-time students must be registered for a minimum of 6 credits.

International Students

Students who are applying from foreign countries must:

- Be a degree-seeking student.
- Meet admission criteria for freshmen, or as transfer, whichever is applicable.
• Pass the TOEFL test with a minimum score of 550 for the paper-based test, or a minimum score of 80 for new Internet-based TOEFL.

• File a HCHC Financial Statement that indicates your sponsor has sufficient finances to support you for the duration of your stay in the United States. Downloaded financial statements must be mailed to us because signatures are required.

• Maintain full-time enrollment in order to comply with federal regulations.

Holy Cross international students are responsible for keeping their own passports valid beyond the expiration date by six months. International students are required to report their addresses to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) on Form I-53, available at the U.S. Post Office, on or before January 31 of each year.

Proficiency in English, to pursue a course of study equivalent to that normally required of an American applicant, must be demonstrated through the TOEFL scores, which must be no lower than 550 on the paper-based test or no lower than an 80 on the computer-based testing. When registering for the TOEFL exam, please note that the Holy Cross TOEFL code number is 9794.

To be in compliance with federal law, international students must maintain full-time status (a minimum of 12 credit hours). In addition to the admissions requirements for all students, international students must submit an immigration status declaration form and an affidavit of support. Support from churches, organizations, individuals, other outside parties, etc., must be documented in writing and indicate monetary amounts thereof.

International students are required to be in full compliance with all laws and regulations regarding their studies and immigration status. Failure to do so is basis for dismissal.

Seminarians
Since its establishment in 1937, the primary purpose of Holy Cross has been and continues to be the preparation, education, and training of clergy for the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. In conjunction with the academic requirements of the M.Div. program, men studying at Holy Cross toward ordination participate in an integrative Seminarian Program designed to facilitate the intellectual, spiritual, personal, interpersonal, and pastoral development of the student. The Seminarian Program is principally intended to prepare future priests to serve the needs of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, although it is open to men from other Orthodox jurisdictions and churches.

Upon acceptance into the Master of Divinity program, a declared candidate for the priesthood is considered for admission into the Seminarian Program during his first year of studies. During this time, the student's progress will be reviewed. The criteria for evaluation include: (1) academic performance, (2) faithful attendance at chapel services, (3) development of a stable and regular relationship with a designated spiritual father, (4) ongoing participation in spiritual and psychological assessments, (5) adherence to all the rules and regulations governing student life, as de- scribed in the Student Handbook, and other directives of the school.

After verifying a candidate's academic and spiritual progress, the President makes the decision as to who receives the designation of seminarian. Formal recognition of seminarians takes place in the fall semester of their second year at the ceremony of the stavroforia, when crosses are presented to them after Great Vespers of the Feast of the Elevation of the Holy Cross (September 14). A second formal recognition of a seminarian's good standing occurs in the fall semester of his senior year in the ceremony of the rassofoforia, when the seminarian is given the honor of wearing the exorasson, evidencing his fitness to preach the word of God.

Seminarians are expected throughout their tenure at Holy Cross to “grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ” (2 Peter 3:18) and to strive to live their lives “in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ” (Philippians 1:27). Seminarians are encouraged to utilize the academic, spiritual, pastoral, psychological, and vocational resources of the School throughout their studies at Holy Cross. In order to assist a seminarian's development, his progress is reviewed regularly.

The final official act of the Holy Cross Seminarian Program is to offer its assessment of a candidate for ordination when the candidate submits his application to Church authorities. Please note that even the successful completion of the Seminarian Program does not in itself warrant ordination. The decision to ordain is made solely by Church authorities of the candidate’s respective jurisdiction.

Special Ministerial Candidates

1. Men who hold the Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent from a non-Orthodox theological school and have received ministerial ordination prior to their reception into the Orthodox Church and who wish to be candidates for the holy priesthood in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese must normally have at least two years of living experience in a Greek Orthodox parish prior to their acceptance as seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese.

   They must also complete three years of study at Holy Cross. The Holy Cross degree program will be tailored to meet individual needs. The modified course of study will include language courses and will be planned in consultation with the Dean and the candidate’s academic advisor.

2. Candidates who hold advanced degrees (M.A., Ph.D.) without any theological training will be enrolled in the three- or four-year M.Div. degree program.

3. The completion of the degree program does not in itself constitute a guarantee for ordination.

4. Upon the completion of the degree program, candidates may be required by Church authorities to do additional work in order to strengthen their linguistic abilities and refine their liturgical training.

Learning about Holy Cross

The Office of Admissions encourages qualified students who are interested in pursuing graduate theological education in the Orthodox Christian tradition to apply for admission. To learn more about Holy Cross and its programs, visit our website at www.hchc.edu or contact the Office of Admissions at (617) 850-1260 (voice) or (866) 424 2338 (toll-free) or (617) 850-1460 (fax). You may also write: Office of Admissions, Holy Cross, 50 Goddard Ave., Brookline, MA 02445; or e-mail: admissions@hchc.edu.

Campus Visits

Prospective students are encouraged to visit Holy Cross. While visiting campus, candidates can tour the campus with a Holy Cross student, as well as meet with the Director of Admissions, Holy Cross faculty members, and (if requested) with a deacon or priest. Prospective students are welcome to attend classes during their campus visit. Meetings are offered on weekdays throughout the year between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Campus visits and meetings must be arranged in advance by contacting the Office of Admissions.

Financial Information

For basic fees, payment policy, and financial aid, see the financial information section of this catalog.
The Holy Cross academic year consists of the fall and spring semesters. Registration, advisement, and orientation periods prior to each semester vary in length according to the requirements for the semester. There is a reading and examination period at the end of each semester.

Registration
Registration takes place in several steps, all of which must be completed before registration can be considered valid. To register students should:

1. Obtain financial clearance from the Finance Office.
2. Review courses on the MYHCHC Student Portal.
3. Choose their courses.
4. Have their registration reviewed and approved by their academic advisors.
5. Complete online registration.
6. Review class schedule in MyHCHC portal.
7. Make course adjustments during the designated drop/add period at the beginning of each semester.

Confidentiality
The registrar's office gives the student the opportunity to prevent personal information from being released to friends, relatives, or interested persons who inquire at the registrar's office and to remove the student's name from the student directory, in order to comply with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (The Buckley Amendment). This is accomplished by completing a form which is available in the Registrar's Office. See the Student Handbook for more information.

Late Registration
Any student who fails to register at the appropriate scheduled time is assessed a late registration fee of $100.

Course Adjustments
A course adjustment form must be obtained from the Registrar's Office, signed by the academic advisor, and returned to the Registrar’s Office within the designated time period. Any course dropped after the conclusion of the add/drop period is considered a course withdrawal and will result in a W grade. Applicable refunds are outlined within the financial information section.

Course Withdrawals
A course withdrawal form must be obtained from the Registrar's Office, signed by the appropriate professor(s) and the academic advisor, and returned to the Registrar’s Office within the designated time period for course withdrawals. Course withdrawals remain as permanent academic record.

Course Auditing
Any student intending to audit a course (and earn no credit) is required to note this on the registration form and to receive the permission of the course instructor. Auditors are expected to attend all regular classes. A student who first registers for the course for credit may change to auditor status only during the drop/add period. A student who first enrolls in a course for auditor status may change to credit status only during the drop/add period. Courses audited are not included in determining the total credits earned. The charge for courses which are audited is 50% of regular tuition rates.
Leave of Absence
The School of Theology, only for extraordinary circumstances, grants a Leave of Absence over which the student and the School of Theology have no control. A Leave of Absence granted for medical reasons must have certification by a physician that the student is unable to meet the normal student activities required. Procedures for applying for a Leave of Absence are the same outlined in the section above under Withdrawals. A Leave of Absence will be granted for one (1) semester, not to exceed 180 days. No student may have a leave of absence longer than one semester during his/her enrollment at the School of Theology, subject to review by the Academic Dean. A student on a leave of absence may not enroll at another school during that period since he/she is considered a student at the School of Theology. Failure to observe this regulation will result in disciplinary action. The effective date for a Withdrawal, Leave of Absence, and Stop Out is the date the application is filed with The Registrar.

Stop Out
Students who are not eligible for an approved leave of absence may seek a Stop Out. Students seeking to leave the School of Theology with intention of returning at a later date not to exceed 180 days, will be considered a Stop Out. A Stop Out does not apply to absences from classes for short-term reasons.

Withdrawal from School
If a student desires to withdraw voluntarily from the school, he or she must: (1) secure an application for withdrawal from the Registrar’s Office; (2) obtain the required signatures; and (3) file the application with the Registrar. If withdrawal takes place after the tenth academic day of the semester, a mark of “W” (withdrawn) will be entered on the student’s transcript, and credit will not be granted. Any student who fails to withdraw in the prescribed manner, as stated above, will not be entitled to an honorable dismissal or to any refund, and will receive a grade of F on all courses carried.

Reinstatement after withdrawal must be made through the Office of Admissions. Students who have been absent from the institution may be eligible for readmission by a simplified application process. To be eligible, one must have withdrawn voluntarily or requested a leave of absence. In this case, the following documents must be submitted:
1. A Petition for Readmission form (available from the Registrar’s Office).
2. A letter detailing the reasons for seeking readmission.
3. A one- to two-page update to the original Autobiographical Statement recounting one’s activities since leaving Holy Cross.
4. Official transcripts documenting all academic work undertaken since leaving Holy Cross.
5. International petitioners must submit anew the following forms: Affidavit of Support, Immigration Status Declaration, and Dependent Family Visa Request and Affidavit (if applicable).

If it has been two years or less since the student withdrew or filed for a leave of absence, the President and Dean will decide on the petition after reviewing the original application dossier together with the student’s record and the autobiographical update. If the student has been away from Holy Cross between two years and five years, the President, Dean, and faculty (through the Admissions Committee) will need to approve the petition for readmission. Students who have been absent for five years or more must reapply through the regular applications process applicable to all prospective students.

Academic Expulsion
If a student is found guilty of a serious academic violation, Holy Cross may expel the student. Expulsion is a permanent and irrevocable dismissal of a student from Holy Cross.

The Dean will appoint an ad hoc committee to examine questions of academic impropriety. Following the committee’s review, the case is referred to the Dean to be adjudicated by the faculty.
Time Limitations
Credits earned more than ten years before admission or readmission to a degree program in the School of Theology may not be applied toward a degree. The faculty reserves the right to determine the number of credits from prior course work, which may be applied to a degree program.

Grading System
Holy Cross uses the alphabetical grading scale and places the following value on its categories:

A  Outstanding work and knowledge of the material.
B  Thorough work and knowledge of the material.
C  Basic knowledge of the material.
D  Deficient work.
F  Inadequate work.

Letter grades and their numerical equivalents are:

Good Standing and Probation
In computing the grade point average, the Registrar’s Office shall give each semester grade a numerical value as listed above, multiply that figure by the credit value of the respective course, and then divide the total sum of the credits taken. The resulting figure is the quality point average (GPA).

1. All students must maintain a quality point average of at least 2.00 (C) per semester in order to be considered in good standing.
2. Credit is allowed for only one course per semester in which a student receives a grade of D. Credit is not allowed for a second required course in the same field (e.g., Systematic Theology, Church History, Old Testament, etc.) in which a student receives a D during the entire academic program.

Furthermore, the following stipulations also apply to passing credit for a D:

a. If, in any given semester, more than one D is received, credit for only one such course will be given toward graduation requirements.
b. If, in any given semester, more than one D is received and one of the grades is for an elective course, credit will be given for the elective course, not the required course.
c. If, in any given semester, two or more Ds are received in required courses, the student may choose which course will be designated for credit and which course(s) will be repeated, except in cases involving a second D in required courses of the same area.
3. Less than a 2.00 (C) grade point average automatically places a student on academic and financial aid probation.
4. The Registrar will officially inform students in writing of the student’s probationary status in January for the spring semester, and in June for the fall semester, provided that all the student’s grades have been received by the Registrar.

5. Students who are on academic probation for two semesters, consecutive or not, will receive from the Registrar notification of automatic academic suspension and will be required to discontinue their studies at the School. However, the student may formally petition the faculty for reinstatement. The petition must be submitted to the Dean's Office within two weeks of being notified of the suspension. If reinstated, the student will be ineligible for federal financial aid until satisfactory academic progress is proven and confirmed by the Dean. Students who have a grade point average of less than 1.00 (D) shall receive an automatic academic dismissal.

Graduation Requirements
In order to graduate, each student must have a cumulative grade point average of not less than 2.00 (C), as well as have completed the credit requirements for the degree. Students are responsible for meeting the full requirements for graduation as set forth in the School catalog upon date of entry. The academic advisor assists in the planning of a program, but the final responsibility for meeting the requirements for graduation rests with the student. Students with no more than 6 credits outstanding credits are allowed to participate in May commencement activities. Students must demonstrate that all remaining credits are to be completed prior to the start of the fall semester. Students requiring a fall course(s) will be eligible to participate in the commencement of the following year.

Distinction
Students whose final cumulative grade point average is 3.50 or above are awarded their degrees with honor according to the following criteria:

- 3.50 - 3.69 Distinction
- 3.70 - 3.89 High Distinction
- 3.90 - 4.00 Highest Distinction

Academic Advisor
Each student is assigned to one of the faculty members as his or her academic advisor by the Dean. Part of the advisor’s role is to assist the student with his or her intellectual and spiritual development. To this end, the advisor meets with the student at least twice each semester to discuss the student's academic standing, acquaint him or her with faculty policies and recommendations, review and sign his or her course registration forms, and be available for consultation. Each faculty member has an office and may be seen during the posted office hours.

Selection of Courses
Each student is expected to be familiar with all regulations covering the curriculum and is responsible for planning a course of study in accordance with those regulations and requirements pertinent to his or her intended degree.

Elective Courses
Because of the comprehensive nature of the Orthodox tradition (which embraces Scripture, Church history, the Church Fathers, dogmatic theology, liturgics, canon law, etc.) and other essential requirements pertaining to language studies and vocational skills, the degree programs (except the ThM) allow for only a limited number of elective courses. The limited number of elective slots and moderate number of students taking electives necessitate the policy that elective courses must normally enroll a minimum of four and a maximum of eight MDiv and MTS students, with preference given to graduating seniors. A filled elective course can additionally enroll a combined total of four ThM and BTI students. In advanced 7000-level courses, preference is given to ThM students. All other arrangements are considered rare exceptions and require the approval of the Dean.

Directed Study Courses
Directed study (out-of-sequence) courses are courses listed in the catalog but not offered on the current schedule. Students may be granted permission to take these courses independently under the supervision of a professor. Such courses must already be listed in the catalog with established titles, course numbers, and descriptions.

Whenever possible, students should take standard courses within the classroom setting, rather than undertake a Directed Study. Permission to register will not be granted for courses that are offered frequently unless adequate reason is shown why the course cannot be taken during its regularly scheduled time. If a needed course is not scheduled to be taught within a reasonable timeframe within the student’s program, either due to the infrequency of the course being offered or a professor’s scheduled sabbatical, permission to register will most likely be granted.

Directed Study courses require approval of the directing professor and of the Dean before permission to register will be granted. The Directed Study Petition Form must be accompanied by a syllabus and a learning agreement, submitted to the Dean in a timely fashion, between the student and the faculty member. The proposal should note how the standard course syllabus is being modified for independent study. Requests should be made early (by April 1 for Summer and Fall; by December 1 for January and Spring); they will not be accepted after the last day of the drop/add period. The first meeting must take place within ten days of the semester’s beginning.

Reading and Research Courses

Courses given under Reading and Research serve specific research interests of faculty and students. They are advanced courses for specialized study in areas not covered by the required and elective courses. Reading and Research courses cannot be taken in order to fulfill required or elective courses, nor simply for convenience of scheduling. Because Reading and Research courses are normally offered in addition to regular faculty teaching loads, they require the approval of both the Dean and the faculty member asked to offer the course. In any event, Reading and Research courses are accompanied by a syllabus and a learning agreement, submitted to the Dean prior to the end of the add/drop period, between the student and the faculty member.

Class Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend class promptly and regularly, to prepare assignments with care, to turn in their papers on time, and to take an active part in class discussions. At the beginning of each course, the professor will make it clear to his or her students that excessive absences will necessarily affect their actual progress and achievement in learning and will definitely be taken into account in evaluating their work. Each professor will, at that time, define the term “excessive,” which will not include any more than three unauthorized absences or a total of seven absences. Authorization for absences must be obtained through the Office of Student Life.

Semester Course Load

The normal course load for students in Holy Cross consists of approximately 15 credit hours per semester. The minimum credit hours per semester for full-time status is 12 credits. The student will be required to pay additional tuition for credit hours taken over 18 credits per semester.

Holy Cross students are not permitted to overload in their first year of study except in extenuating circumstances and with the approval of the Dean. Beyond the first year, students may take a total of up to two extra elective courses according to their interests and vocational goals. The decision to take more than 18 credits in a given semester is subject to approval by the Dean. It should be noted that although credit for such extra electives will appear on their academic records, it should be in addition to the credit requirements of their particular degree program.

Summer Courses

The School of Theology offers courses during the summer in two sessions. Courses will be offered only under the condition that a minimum of five students, paying full tuition rates, are enrolled in each course. Only up to twelve (12) credits taken during both summer sessions will be accepted for credit.

Incomplete Course Work

1. All course requirements are normally completed by the time of the final examination.
2. Students may request from the instructor an “incomplete” for a substantial reason in order to complete course requirements. The form requesting an incomplete must be obtained from the Office of the Registrar, completed by the student, and signed by the instructor. The signed form must be completed and submitted by the student to the Office of the Registrar prior to the last day of class.

3. The incomplete may be granted if the instructor believes that the stated reason is sufficient.

4. The instructor is not required to grant the incomplete. In the event that the incomplete is not approved, the student's grade will be based upon the completion of other course requirements.

5. Only one incomplete is permitted for each student in a semester, without the explicit permission of the Dean and for an exceptional reason.

6. The incomplete course work must be completed within 30 days from the conclusion of the semester or summer session (the last scheduled final examination) and submitted to the Registrar. The Dean may grant an extension of the due date only for an exceptional reason.

7. The instructor normally will submit the grade to the Registrar's Office within one week after the student's incomplete course requirement has been received from the Registrar. In the event that the incomplete requirement is not submitted by the due date, the Registrar will inform the instructor. The instructor will submit a grade based upon other completed course requirements.

Academic Honesty

As members of a graduate school, students learn how to work cooperatively in a community of scholars and make fruitful use of the work of others without violating intellectual honesty. Students are expected to respect the parameters of collaboration and the proper forms of quoting, summarizing, and paraphrasing. A student is liable for disciplinary action if found in violation of the accepted norms of student accountability in his or her academic work. All work submitted to meet course requirements (homework assignments, papers, examinations) is expected to be the student's own work, designed and presented for one course only. In the preparation of work submitted to meet course requirements, students should always take care to distinguish their own ideas from information derived from primary and secondary sources. The responsibility for learning the proper forms of citation lies with each individual student. In addition, all paraphrased material must be acknowledged.

Some specific types of academic dishonesty:

- Data falsification: the fabrication of data or the alteration of data included in a report.
- Plagiarism: taking another's statements, ideas, or information without full and proper acknowledgment, and presenting them as one's own.
- Collusion: assisting another student by allowing him or her to copy one's own work, the use of purchased essays or term papers, and unauthorized cooperation in assignments or during an examination.
- Holy Cross insists upon the highest standards of academic integrity in all student work, both written and oral. A full discussion of the responsibilities of students and faculty in this matter can be found in the Student Handbook. The following steps will be taken in the event of plagiarism:

1. The faculty member will present evidence of plagiarism to the student. If plagiarism is confirmed by the student or is indisputable on account of the evidence, the faculty member will inform the Dean and arrange a meeting between the student, the Dean, the faculty member, and if necessary, other involved parties.

2. If the above meeting results in agreement that plagiarism has occurred, the student will be placed on academic probation. In addition, Holy Cross faculty members for courses in which the student is enrolled will be informed of the student's plagiarism. In addition, the Dean and the faculty member who initiated the process of assessing the student's plagiarism will proceed with disciplinary measures that reflect the severity of the act. Those measures may include, but are not limited to: failing the course where plagiarism occurred, withdrawing from said course without reimbursement, and
3. rewriting the assignment(s) for a lower grade. If said student commits a second offense of plagiarism, the process will be repeated. If confirmed, the second academic probation will result in more severe consequences. Additional measures may be taken, such as listed above; the student may also be expelled from the School.
4. The student may appeal the decisions of the Dean and the faculty member by petitioning the Disciplinary Committee.

Services for Student with Disabilities
Holy Cross is committed to providing a supportive community for students with disabilities who are accepted for admission to our School. The School seeks to provide all students with disabilities a community of faith and learning that affords them equal access and reasonable accommodation for their disabilities.

Students with disabilities are requested to provide the Office of Spiritual Counseling and Formation with documentation of the disability within the first two weeks of the semester. The Office will contact the Dean and instructors to discuss appropriate assistance and accommodations. The details of a student’s disability will not be discussed without the student’s permission. The rights of students with disabilities are protected under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section504) and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA).

The Office of Spiritual Counseling and Formation is located on the 2nd floor in the Administration Building (Office 203). The phone number is: 617-850-1289.

Anti-Discrimination Policy
Holy Cross does not discriminate and does not permit discrimination by any member of its community against any person on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, parental status, marital status, age, disability, citizenship, or veteran status in matters of admissions, employment, housing, or services or in its educational programs or activities.

Harassment, whether verbal, physical, visual, or electronic, is a form of discrimination and will not be tolerated.
Student Life

The Office of Student Life (OSL) serves the Holy Cross community in many capacities and supports student initiatives for improving community life. The OSL also assists students and their families with problems for which they have been unable to find adequate resolution elsewhere.

The Dean of Students oversees the following student activities: the Student Government Association (SGA), Campus Activities Board (CAB), Holy Cross community events, disciplinary procedures, the student directory, the Synaxis (gathering of the student body) schedule, guest speakers, retreats, special needs of individual students and their families, and diakonia (community service) assignments.

Student Government Association
The Student Government Association (SGA) is the official representative of the HCHC student body and aims to strengthen our religious, intellectual, and social responsibilities as well as to coordinate the shared desires of the students. The SGA is the parent organization of several smaller organizations and committees that are under its auspices which includes the: Campus Activities Board, Married Student Association, Spiritual Life Committee, Athletics Committee, as well as many other programs and committees. Together, these organizations form a mutual effort to provide spiritual, social, and communal activities. The SGA is comprised of the Executive Board, the leaders of the campus organizations, and the Vice-Presidents of each class (four from Hellenic College and four from Holy Cross). It is thus the responsibility of all members of the SGA board to report back to their respective classes and organizations as to the different events in which our community is engaged.

Campus Activities Board
The Hellenic College Holy Cross Campus Activities Board (CAB) is the center for campus fellowship and community. CAB sponsors various events throughout the year that are ideal for students of all ages. CAB’s main events include the Fall and Spring Panigiris, Fall Fest, Awards Night, boat cruise, Tournament of Champions, and Community Graduation Dinner Dance. CAB prides itself on providing the best activities possible to suit all the students of HCHC. Our door is always open to students who want to offer their time and talents.

Byzantine Choir
The School’s Byzantine Choir is named for St. Romanos the Melodist, after the saint of the Church known for his gift for sacred music. The choir, which sings and performs ecclesiastical music in the Byzantine tradition and traditional Greek music, is often invited to perform at special occasions in the Greater Boston area and elsewhere.

Married Student Association
The Married Student Association (MSA) exists to foster relationships both within the married community, but also between the married community and the community at large. This is done through a series of private and group events, including both marital enrichment and recreational activities.

Orthodox Inter-Seminary Movement
The OISM is a movement that helps to improve relations between Orthodox seminarians of all jurisdictions throughout the United States and Canada. Weekend encounters are held at the various member seminaries during the academic year. Emphasis is placed on spiritual, intellectual, and social activities among the representatives of all the member seminaries.
Missions Committee
The Missions Committee works to promote a mission consciousness at Hellenic College Holy Cross. It seeks to increase the awareness of the importance of missions as a central part of our lives as Orthodox Christians and within the Church, and tries to expose our students to the work of Orthodox Christian missionaries worldwide. The Committee promotes participation and support for international and domestic cross-cultural missions through our annual Fall Missions Week and Lecture, regular meetings, and group involvement in short-term mission trips during Spring Break or over the summer through the OCMC and the Missions Institute here at HCHC.

Athletics Committee
The Athletics Committee coordinates athletic events on campus to support fellowship, active lifestyles, and friendly Christian competition. Athletics currently holds four major sporting intramurals throughout the year: football, volleyball, basketball, and soccer. “Pick-up” games of the gymnasium sports are offered on a nightly basis, Monday through Thursday, except when intramurals must occupy the Pappas Gymnasium. Intramurals are offered for both males and females, and in the cases of volleyball and soccer, those intramural leagues are co-ed. Athletics participants may be students, faculty, and spouses/family members of students. Besides intramurals, the annual Columbus Day events are put on through Athletics, CAB, and the Alumni Association, including the Hellenic College vs. Holy Cross football game in the morning and the HCHC students vs. alumni game in the evening.

Syndesmos
Syndesmos is an international organization of Orthodox youth with membership throughout the world. It assists in fostering intra-Orthodox cooperation. International meetings of member groups are held periodically.

Other Committees and Activities
Various special committees and clubs organize particular programs for the School and respond to the special interests of students. Included among these clubs and programs are mission trips; women's groups; co-ed soccer teams; men's basketball teams; women's volleyball teams; women's Byzantine choir; monastery trips; football, baseball, and basketball outings; variety shows; hiking trips; HOPE and JOY for the children; and service projects.

Student Government
The purpose of the Student Government is to act as the legislative, unifying, and enforcing representative of the student body and to provide for activities, events, and programs for the student body. The Student Government is comprised of two branches: the Student Government Association (SGA), and the Campus Activities Board (CAB).

The Student Government Association consists of the five elected officers of Student Government, one elected representative from each class of Hellenic College and Holy Cross, and one representative each from the Campus Activities Board, the Married Students Association (MSA), the Hellenic Students Association (HSA), and Orthodox Campus Fellowship (OCF). In addition, four permanent committees function with SGA: (1) Spiritual Life, (2) Athletics, (3) Missions, and (4) Constitution. All SGA meetings are open to the entire student body.

The Campus Activities Board consists of the Director of CAB and two representatives each from Hellenic College and Holy Cross. The CAB complements the SGA by creating opportunities for student involvement and fostering campus environments that inspire students to become active members of the campus, the School, and the community. In addition, the CAB works in collaboration with the Office of Student Life to offer a wide array of educational, cultural, social, recreational, and spiritual programs that promote student learning and development.

Married Student Association (MSA)
The Married Student Association (MSA) provides a forum for the interaction of married students and resolution of issues particular to their situation, performing philanthropic work, and assisting in various community activities. The MSA is open to married students and their spouses residing both on and off campus.
Intramural Sports
Throughout the school year, a wide variety of intramural sports are offered to provide our students with an opportunity for physical exercise and healthy competition. Typically, flag football and indoor soccer are offered in the fall semester, and basketball and kickball in the spring.
The Chaplaincy Office exists to assist students, faculty, and staff in their spiritual growth on campus. In particular, it offers the following ministries:

- Coordinates the liturgical life on campus.

Office of Spiritual Formation and Counseling Services

Our Mission
Students and families of students are invited to call upon the HCHC community’s resources in the areas of spiritual formation and counseling to strengthen and enhance their personal growth. The Office of Spiritual Formation and Counseling Services supports the mission of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology by nurturing the spiritual and psychological well-being and development of all students and their families, working in conjunction with the faculty, alumni, and the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese. These programs are available to all students and family members. The Pastoral Care Director and Psychological Care Director coordinate the various services offered: spiritual fathers program; spiritual and psychological assessment; and counseling and referrals.

The Seminarian Program
Christian leadership requires a combination of love, knowledge, intuition, and faith – strengthened by self-confidence, tempered by humility, and modeled on the conciliarity of the Holy Trinity. Important as books are, liturgical and pastoral skills are best learned through the intangibles afforded by example and experience.

Seminarians are required to participate regularly in daily chapel services, scheduled synaxes (community gatherings called by the President), diakonia (community service) assignments, on- and off-campus retreats, and other community events. In addition, all seminarians are required to participate in annual events such as the Greater Boston Greek Independence Day celebrations and graduation ceremonies. As future leaders of the larger community, seminarians must first show themselves to be self-motivated and responsible to the HCHC community. Although the responsibilities to the HCHC community may sometimes be hard to balance with the demands of academic life, in many ways one’s future service to the Church and society will require a similar balance.

The President is ultimately responsible for admission to and participation in the Seminarian Program. The President is also responsible for overall implementation and effectiveness of the Spiritual Formation and Counseling Services (SF/CS) Office, which affirms a holistic view of formation. All students interested in the Seminarian Program must complete a separate application and complete the preadmission requirements as detailed in the Seminarian Program Checklist. The candidate’s dossier must be completed before being considered for the program. More information about the Seminarian Program is found in the Student Handbook.

The SF/CS Office’s co-directors also advise the President on students’ readiness for Church ministry (including, but not limited to, the participants of the seminarian program). Participation in activities promoting spiritual and psychological formation and development is expected of the seminarians and seminarian candidates.

Spiritual Fathers Program
In keeping with the tradition of the Orthodox Church, students and families of students are encouraged to establish and to maintain an ongoing relationship with a spiritual father. The Office of SF/CS staff can help in selecting a spiritual father if necessary. The spiritual father guides his charges in development of Christian character and provides guidance in striving—askesis—toward spiritual development.

Maintenance of a relationship with one’s spiritual father is essential to participate in the Seminarian
Program. For the seminarian, his spiritual father will be his sponsor and signer of the symmartyria to be read at ordination. In some instances students are referred by the spiritual assessment provider to their spiritual father to discuss pastoral concerns.

Academic Support and Disability Services
Students struggling academically can receive academic support in the form of organizational and time management skill building, while students with diagnosed learning disabilities are eligible to receive specialized services and accommodations under state and federal laws. These may include testing accommodations (extended time, separate locations, etc.), use of assistive technology, priority course selection, or consultations with on and off-campus learning disability specialists. Furthermore, subject peer-tutors are available free of charge to all HCHC students who need one-on-one academic assistance.

Counseling and Referrals
Counselors assist students and their families in resolving a wide variety of problems. Our counselors provide short-term counseling with referrals, as needed, crisis intervention, and educational seminars to the students and their families. In most cases, students contact a counselor directly by calling (617) 850-1289 or dropping by the office. In some cases, a spiritual father, faculty, or staff member may refer students for assistance. In other cases, seminarian candidates may be referred for counseling subsequent to their psychological evaluation.

Spiritual Assessment
Using instruments, interviews, and reflective assessments, students will have opportunities to address their spiritual and pastoral concerns. The assessment is ongoing, occurring before and during the Seminarian Program. While required for the seminarians, any student may inquire about using this service.

Psychological Assessment
This resource exists to strengthen and enhance the students’ emotional growth. While any student may ask about using this service, it is required for those entering the Seminarian Program. Please contact SF/CS staff for information regarding accessing on and off-campus psychological assessments.

Financial Clearance
Students must be financially clear in order to enroll at the School of Theology. The Bursar’s Office reviews all student accounts to ensure financial clearance. Students and their families are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the information provided.

In order to be considered financially clear, a student must have a zero balance on his/her student account at the start of the academic semester. Students must have a zero balance through either anticipated financial assistance (certified and in process, if a student loan) or payment made in full. Balances on student accounts are due on July 15th, for the Fall semester and on December 15th, for the Spring semester. Students who are not financially clear will be blocked from registration. Students who leave the School of Theology with an unpaid balance will be subject to having official academic transcripts withheld and will face having unpaid balances referred to a collection agency. In special cases, temporary deferred payment arrangements may be made, provided that the balance is paid in full before the end of that current semester. Every graduating student must settle and pay all financial obligations to the institution twenty (20) business days prior to graduation, at the latest, in order to participate in graduation exercises and receive a diploma or transcript.

Financial clearance must be met for a student to receive transcripts or a diploma. Although someone else may pay the charges, e.g., parents, friends, parish, etc. all charges are ultimately the student’s responsibility.
Refunds
Tuition and room and board refunds are determined by the number of weeks a student has attended class or has been in residence. If a student officially withdraws within:

- Week 1: 90% refund
- Week 2: 80% refund
- Week 3: 60% refund
- Week 4: 30% refund

There are no refunds after the fourth week of the semester. Additionally, a student who withdraws from the School and fails to do so in the prescribed manner will not be entitled to any refunds.
Financial Aid Overview

Holy Cross offers a program of financial assistance to those students who qualify. Financial assistance may be offered in the form of scholarships, grants, assistantships, federal student loans, and employment. Awards are based on academic performance, special skills, demonstrated need, and the availability of funds, (100% of our students receive some form of financial aid). The Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships will be glad to discuss how a student’s particular needs can be met.

Student loans provide students with the opportunity to borrow against future earnings. Several loan programs supported by the federal government are available on the basis of financial need. Work/Study opportunities on and off campus make it possible for students to defray the cost of their education through part-time employment.

All students are expected to contribute to their education. All financial aid awards are considered supplemental to the contribution of the family and the student. To be eligible for federal funds a student must: be accepted by the School; be enrolled in a degree program; be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States; be in good academic standing and make satisfactory academic progress as outlined by School and federal standards; and complete all necessary applications on a timely basis. All forms are available in the Office of Financial Aid.

Vocational Grants (Leadership 100 Loan and Seminarian Funding)

Students who are enrolled at Holy Cross and who have declared in writing their intention to be ordained as priests in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America and who meet certain academic and performance-based standards are eligible for Leadership 100 Loans. Leadership 100 Loans are only given to master of divinity seminarian students. Once the student becomes ordained in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, the Leadership 100 Loan is forgiven.

The amount funded under each student loan is determined by the amount of available funding and the number of participants. The average Leadership 100 Loan for the academic year 2016-17 addressed approximately 85% of the seminarian's tuition bill.

The amount of funding received by each student shall be deemed a loan. Upon the student's ordination to the priesthood, the loan is forgiven. If a student leaves the School before graduation for any reason (except with written permission of the School President), or otherwise decides that he does not want to pursue ordination, the loan will become payable. The School may utilize outside third-party resources to administer and collect against such loans. All qualifying students will be required to sign a “Declaration Agreement” in order to receive such funding.

Alumni Scholarship

Students who are dependent children of alumni of Hellenic College or Holy Cross may receive a 50% discount of the tuition rate OR may choose to take advantage of better school scholarship offers. The 50% alumni scholarship may not be combined with other school offers and does not become the base to which other school aid is applied. Students who are candidates for the Holy Priesthood must accept vocational funding before becoming eligible for this scholarship.

Employee Scholarship

Students who are dependent children of a full-time employee of Hellenic College or Holy Cross may receive a 50% employee scholarship which may not be combined with other school offers and does not become the base to which other school aid is applied.

Teacher Assistantship Program
The Teacher Assistantship Program provides students with part-time positions assisting full-time members of the faculties. These assistantships are restricted to full-time, upper-class students whose cumulative grade point average is at least a 3.00 or B, and who demonstrate financial need. Candidates are selected by individual faculty members in conjunction with the Financial Aid Office & Scholarships.

Work Study Program
The Work Study Program offers a variety of part-time employment opportunities on and off campus. Students are selected based on demonstrated financial need and depending on the availability of positions. Work study jobs are assigned by the Financial Aid Office & Scholarships.

Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grant
Limited federal funds are available to students under the Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG). Grants are awarded according to School and federal guidelines, and are based on financial need and available federal funds.

Federal Direct Loan Program
The Federal Direct Loan Program provides students with the opportunity to borrow money from the Department of Education in order to pay for their education. The total annual amount that a student may borrow is based on a student’s status and year of study and varies from year to year according to federal guidelines.

All Federal Direct Loans must be repaid. Under the Subsidized Loan Program, students begin their repayment six months after they complete their programs of study. The federal government subsidizes the interest while the student is in school. The interest on unsubsidized Federal Direct Loans is not subsidized by the federal government and can either be paid by the student during his or her program of study or may be deferred until six months after the student finishes school. If the student chooses to have the interest accrued, it will capitalize, and the principal of the loan will increase significantly.

Applying for Financial Aid
Holy Cross encourages its present and prospective students to research the financial aid picture to keep abreast of any new funding programs. Realizing the expenses involved, every effort should be made to pursue any local awards that may be offered in your community. Holy Cross requires all students who wish to be considered for financial assistance to submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, FAFSA (www.fafsa.ed.gov). A FAFSA is used to determine your eligibility for federal financial aid and/or grants. Once an Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) has been determined, the form is sent to Holy Cross to be used in determining eligibility for all financial aid programs. The student must also complete the Holy Cross Institutional Financial Aid Documents.

HOLY CROSS FAFSA SCHOOL CODE: 002154

Hellenic College Holy Cross has the right, at its discretion, to make reasonable changes to policies and program content, materials, schedules, sequences of courses in programs, or locations in the interest of improving the student’s education, or where deemed necessary due to industry changes, academic scheduling, or professional requirements.

We are also required to make changes to programs or policies when ongoing federal, state, or accrediting changes affect students currently in attendance.

Hellenic College Holy Cross certifies that the information contained in the Catalog is current and correct, but is subject to change without notice, and does not constitute a binding agreement on the part of Hellenic College Holy Cross. If changes are made to the information in this Catalog, a revised version will be provided.
The academic courses offered are intended to provide the student with significant exposure to the various disciplines of Orthodox theology. While courses are offered in each of these areas, the faculty of Holy Cross seeks to keep the disciplines integrated and related to life in the contemporary world. The thread that unites the major disciplines is the apostolic faith, life, and witness as it is lived and interpreted in the liturgical tradition of Orthodoxy and in the writings of the Fathers of the Church. The faculty is committed to bringing the example and the teachings of the Fathers to bear upon the issues and challenges of contemporary life. This constitutes more than an academic principle of organization. It is a spiritual perspective, an ethos that permeates every aspect of the educational endeavor at Holy Cross.

The study of Orthodox theology is undertaken within the lived witness and fulfillment of the teachings of Jesus Christ, the participation in the holy sacraments, and the life of prayer. The faculty of Holy Cross, therefore, encourages students of theology to study the content of the Christian revelation and to appropriate, in a personal way, that saving revelation. While specific expectations are placed upon those students who are preparing for ordination, all Orthodox students at Holy Cross are expected to share in the liturgical life of the community and to contribute to its well-being under the guidance of their spiritual fathers and their academic advisors.

Required courses are arranged in set patterns for both pedagogical and scheduling reasons. Because most required courses are offered only once during the academic year, students are encouraged to follow the sequence of required courses so as to avoid scheduling conflicts.
Master of Divinity

The Master of Divinity degree (MDiv) is the preferred graduate degree in theology for those interested in all forms of ministry in Church and society, and especially for those preparing for ordination in the Orthodox Church. The program is open to qualified students who have a bachelor’s degree or its equivalent from an accredited college or university. The program is designed primarily for students who are preparing for ordination or other expressions of ministry in the Orthodox Church, giving students a foundation in both academic theological disciplines and practical ministry through field education. Consequently, this program of study is required for students preparing for ordination in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese and is strongly recommended for students who are preparing for ordination in other Orthodox jurisdictions. Applicants who are preparing for ordination (seminarians) and who have recently joined the Orthodox Church are expected to have spent a minimum of two years living an active life in an Orthodox parish community prior to enrolling into the MDiv program. In addition, other students are encouraged to enroll who are not candidates for ordination (non-seminarians) but who desire to obtain a professional degree in pastoral ministry.

The degree of Master of Divinity is awarded to regular students in good standing who have satisfactorily completed the course of study with an average grade not lower than C (2.00), and these requirements:

1. A minimum number of credit hours as required by the particular version of the MDiv program in which a student is enrolled.
2. Supervised field education as prescribed by the faculty.
3. One elective in the area of ecumenical studies or in a religious tradition other than the Orthodox Christian tradition.
4. If elected, the successful completion of a thesis in accordance with the “Guide for the Preparation of the MDiv Thesis.” A copy of the guide may be obtained from the director of the MDiv thesis program. This replaces 6 credit hours of electives.

There are three categories of students in the MDiv program. These are outlined below, together with their particular version(s) of the MDiv program.

MDiv Learning Outcomes

- Understand and articulate in a pastorally sensitive manner the Orthodox tradition in its biblical, patristic, dogmatic, canonical, ethical, and missionary aspects with an ecumenical sensitivity, an awareness of the present realities of life and commitment to the Church.
- Identify and analyze the issues involved in various dimensions of pastoral ministry by incorporating learned practical competencies, spiritual integration and theological reflection.
- Demonstrate an understanding, sensitivity and faithfulness to the Church’s liturgical life and become faithful liturgists.
- Develop a theological mind grounded in a critical and ecclesial interpretation of theological texts, contemporary thought and materials with faithfulness to their historical and linguistic context and the challenges of a global world.
- Demonstrate the skills needed to be an effective teacher, catechist, pastoral preacher and collaborative leader.
Seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese
Seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese are admitted to one of two versions of the MDiv program according to their qualifications. Those who are graduates of Hellenic College (Religious Studies A) enroll in a three-year program, while those who have received their bachelor’s degrees from other institutions enroll in the four-year program. The difference lies in certain courses, which graduates of Hellenic College will already have had, but which are unlikely to have been taken by graduates of other schools. These courses include New Testament Greek, Modern Greek (which fulfills an important pastoral need within the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese), Byzantine music, and introductory courses in the Old and New Testaments.

Seminarians of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese are required, in addition, to fulfill the following:
1. Take a voice review during orientation and, if required, at least one semester of voice class before graduating.
2. Participate in the Holy Week Seminar during the student’s first year of study, and in the Archdiocesan Seminar held in New York during the spring semester of the senior year.
3. Participate in the St. Helen's Pilgrimage and Study Abroad program, which is normally held at the end of the student’s middler year.

Modern Greek Language Requirements for GOA Seminarians
Modern Greek language preparation is a central element in training for ordained ministry in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. To that end, seminarians complete 24 credits in Modern Greek language preparation. The typical course of study is as follows:

- Beginning Modern Greek I-II 12 cr.
- Intermediate Modern Greek I-II 6 cr.
- Advanced Modern Greek I-II 6 cr.

Proficiency exams offered each spring will determine whether students have attained the necessary degree of competence to move to the next level of Greek, or whether a remedial course is required first. Students with prior knowledge of Modern Greek will take a placement exam to determine at what level their studies begin, and they will continue their studies in domain-specific (e.g., culture, literature, history), post-advanced level language courses.

Total Credits: 60

NOTE: Students who already have a Master of Theological Studies from Holy Cross and who wish to enroll in the Master of Divinity degree program may receive a maximum of thirty (30) credits advanced standing towards fulfillment of the Master of Divinity degree requirements. In consultation with the faculty, the Dean will determine which requirements need to be satisfied. A minimum additional residency of one and one-half years is required.
The Master of Theology (ThM) program is an advanced course of studies, which builds on the first graduate-level theological degree, normally the Master of Divinity. The primary goal of the program is to provide scholarly concentration in a particular area of theology in the context of an Orthodox community. It is intended for candidates who: (a) may later pursue studies at the doctoral level; (b) seek some form of teaching in the future; (c) desire scholarly enhancement of their priestly or ministerial practice; or (d) are interested in personal theological and spiritual enrichment. While it is of particular interest to Orthodox students who have received their first graduate theological degree from Orthodox theological schools in the United States and abroad, it welcomes all qualified applicants.

Admission Requirements
Admission into the program requires the Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent, such as the Licentiate of Theology awarded to graduates of Orthodox schools of theology from abroad. Applicants who hold only the Master of Theological Studies degree (MTS) or its equivalent are normally required to complete an additional four theology courses (12 credits) prior to their matriculation into the ThM program. Applicants must have demonstrated previous academic work of high quality (3.3 grade average or better) and an aptitude for critical thinking and independent study under faculty supervision. Language requirements include intermediate knowledge of New Testament or Patristic Greek, proficiency in English, and a reading knowledge of one of the following languages: French, German, Modern Greek, or Russian. All applicants must complete the Graduate Record Exam (GRE; the School code number is R-34496). Students should bear in mind that GRE scores are viable for only five years after the date the exam is taken. International applicants must show competence in English by scoring at least 550, or 80 for the computer-based testing, on the TOEFL exam (Holy Cross code number 9794).

Program Administration
The ThM program is under the supervision of the faculty, which works through the ThM Committee appointed annually by the Dean. The Director of the ThM program, also appointed by the Dean, chairs the committee. The Director's duties involve providing information to applicants on all matters pertaining to the program, advising them regarding courses and registration, keeping appropriate records on behalf of the Committee, and generally overseeing the entire program. The ThM Committee deliberates on all policy and curricular changes, and recommends proposals to the faculty for final decision.

ThM Learning Outcomes
- Knowledge of the area of concentration
  - Assimilate and critically analyze the data in any of these subjects by taking 6000-7000 level courses
  - Articulate how their proposed topic relates to current scholarly discussion acquired in the 6000-7000 level courses
  - Undertake and complete a project (ThM thesis) of specialized research within the prescribed time framework
- Acquisition and integration of scholarly tools and skills
  - Read ancient / modern theological texts of moderate difficulty using the dictionary
  - Perform thesis research and gain admittance to a doctoral program for those who want to continue their academic work
  - Produce a bibliography in the subject of a specific area of concentration
  - Use efficiently library and on-line resources in the area of research
  - Produce standard forms of graduate-level scholarly works (e.g., seminar papers and oral presentations) consistent with the requirements of a 6000-7000 level course
Degree Requirements
The Master of Theology degree is awarded upon the successful completion of: (a) 24 credits of course work with a grade average of 3.3 or better; (b) a thesis of 75–100 pages in length; and (c) a one-year residence. The program is also open to qualified part-time students. However, all candidates must complete the program, including the acceptance of the thesis, within a period of up to four years.

Course Requirements
ThM students normally enroll in upper-level courses (numbered 7000), whether lectures, seminars, or tutorials. All candidates will complete at least 12 credits or four courses at the upper level. Courses at the 6000 level may be taken according to a student’s program needs and under the supervision of the Director. Candidates without a previous degree in Orthodox theology are required to complete two additional core courses, one in patristic studies and one in dogmatic theology, beyond the twenty-four required course credits. Students will be expected to meet all the requirements for these courses and will receive a Pass/Fail grade. A minimum of 15 credits or five courses must be completed at Holy Cross, while the remaining 9 credits or three courses may be taken through member schools of the Boston Theological Institute (BTI) or other accredited theological schools.

Concentration
Upon enrollment in the program candidates must choose a concentration among the basic fields of theology: (a) biblical (Old and New Testaments); (b) historical (Church History and Patristics); (c) systematic (Dogmatics and Ethics); and (d) practical (Liturgics, Canon Law, and Pastoral Theology). Four courses in any of the above fields is considered a concentration. The remaining four courses are to be selected from fields other than one’s area of concentration.

International Students
For foreign national students, immigration status is only granted for a period of two (2) years when enrolled in the ThM degree program. No extension will be granted beyond the two (2) year degree program. Optional Practicum Training (OPT) is not available for ThM degree recipients.

Thesis Seminar
A Thesis Seminar for all Th.M. candidates will be convened twice each semester. The initial meeting in the fall semester will provide an opportunity to review the program requirements and to hear progress reports from each ongoing ThM candidate. At subsequent meetings, an ongoing student will present his or her latest research for discussion. When possible, the reporting student’s advisor and members of the ThM committee will be asked to attend.

Thesis
The thesis will be written in the area of concentration in close collaboration with a faculty advisor chosen by the student from among the faculty teaching in that field. The student and the advisor are primarily responsible for the substance of the thesis project. The thesis, which is to be no less than seventy-five pages and up to one hundred, must demonstrate critical understanding and competent research at an advanced level. All the appropriate forms and information regarding the thesis may be obtained from the Director who oversees the whole process. Requirements include the writing of a prospectus, to be approved by the ThM Committee, defining the thesis topic, methodology, and organization. The thesis is read by the student’s faculty advisor and by one other individual approved by the faculty advisor and the Director of the ThM program. The thesis must be completed within the four-year period allowed for the fulfillment of all requirements. Beyond the one-year residence, candidates must register each semester to continue in the program and are charged a continuation fee of $50.00 annually until the acceptance of the final version of the thesis. For a May graduation, the completed thesis is due by the end of January to allow for reading by the other individual chosen by the Director in consultation with the advisor, and for subsequent revisions by the student. The final version of the thesis is due by the end of April, at which time the advisor and the second reader will each submit a brief evaluation and a grade to the Director.
Finances
Candidates are eligible for financial assistance. Students seeking financial aid should apply through the Student Financial Aid Office. In addition, scholarships are available through the recommendation of the ThM Committee to full-time applicants of high credentials.
Program for the Diaconate

The Program for the Diaconate is an educational and formational initiative of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology offered in conjunction with the Holy Synod of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America.

The on-campus program is designed to prepare a candidate for the ordained diaconate. The candidate must be a committed and mature Orthodox Christian who has been active in a parish, and who senses a calling from the Lord to serve the Church in the diaconal ministry. The program is the basis for other meetings and studies required by the local Metropolitan, and complemented by service in a parish under the tutelage of the priest.

The program is designed especially for persons who are members of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America and who have the blessing of their Metropolitan to participate. Persons from other Orthodox jurisdictions may also apply to participate in the program. This program is not designed for persons who sense a calling to the priesthood.

Students will receive a Certificate of Study from Holy Cross upon the successful completion of the Diaconate Program.

Further information on this program may be obtained from the Office of Admissions.
Field Education Program

Theological Foundation
The theological foundation upon which the field education program rests is the conviction that theological studies cannot be separated from or unrelated to church life. There is an intimate and necessary relationship between theological study, worship, and loving service to others. As an integral part of preparation for service to the Church in today’s world, the Field Education Program manifests the relationship between worship, theological study, and service to God’s people. The supervised field education experiences offered have one fundamental concern: to assist students in deepening their relationship to God and to nurture their vocation to serve God through the Church.

Structure
All students in the M.Div. degree program are required to complete six semesters of supervised field education in order to be certified for graduation.

In an effort to strengthen the educational aspects of the field education program, all field education courses are, integrated into three-credit courses that include a field placement. The six field education courses are:

Religious Education: The focus of this field education course is on religious education across the lifespan. Students are placed in a religious education setting, either at a local parish or a local university campus.

Youth Ministry: Youth ministry focuses on ministry to adolescents. Students are placed in local parishes and given the opportunity to participate in youth retreats, lock-ins, and camping programs for adolescents.

Pastoral Care I/Hospital Ministry: This field education course serves as the introduction to pastoral care with a specific focus on ministering to the sick and infirm. Students are placed in local hospitals, hospice care facilities, or nursing homes.

Social Ministries: The focus of this field education course is on social ethics. Students are placed in area social service agencies, including prisons, food pantries, homeless shelters, etc.

Parish Leadership and Administration I: This is the first of a two-course sequence focusing on parish leadership and administration. Students are assigned to shadow a priest at a local parish and participate in parish ministry and leadership opportunities.

Parish Leadership and Administration II: This course is the second part of a year-long program on parish leadership and administration. Students remain in their assigned shadowing placement for this second semester.

In addition to the specific requirements of each course and each respective placement, students are required to complete a list of pastoral tasks over the course of their time in the field education program. Students may arrange to complete these tasks at their assigned placements, at their home parishes, or make special arrangements with the Field Education Director.

Further information is available on the Field Education page of the School’s website.
Special Programs

BTI Certificate Programs
The Boston Theological Institute, a consortium of ten theological schools in the Boston area of which Holy Cross is a member, offers two certificate programs to students registered in one of the BTI schools. The Certificate in Religion and Conflict Transformation and the Certificate in International Mission and Ecumenism are awarded to students who have successfully completed particular course and seminar requirements of the respective certificate programs. The certificate programs encourage students to take advantage of the academic, theological, and pastoral resources of the BTI member schools. For more information about these certificate programs, visit the BTI website at www.bostontheological.org.

St. Helen’s Pilgrimage
During the summer between their middler and senior year, students enrolled in the Master of Divinity Program participate in a study and travel program in Greece and at the Ecumenical Patriarchate in Istanbul, Turkey. The trip is an educational excursion and pilgrimage to various sites of historical, cultural, and ecclesiastical significance in the worlds of Hellenism, early Christianity, Byzantium, and the Orthodox Christian heritage. As part of the program, students take part in an intensive course in Modern Greek language.

The Office of Vocation & Ministry
The Office of Vocation & Ministry (OVM) defines vocation as one’s unique and ongoing response to Christ’s call to love God with heart, soul, mind, and strength, and the neighbor as oneself. It seeks to encourage all constituents to consider their life as vocation, and to nurture the next generation of leaders who are called to full-time ministry in the Church, whether to the ordained priesthood or to lay ministry. The OVM offers vocational exploration programs for Hellenic College undergraduates, a summer program for high school students known as CrossRoad, and opportunities for faculty at Hellenic College—along with Orthodox faculty across the nation—to develop their vocations through symposia and grants. Holy Cross graduate students are invited to take part in many of the programs geared for undergraduates and to the OVM coffee hospitality in Skous Room 220. Each fall the OVM hires talented graduate students to serve as staff for its CrossRoad program. CrossRoad staff receive training in youth ministry that is unparalleled in our Church today.

Middler Year Abroad in Greece
As a recognized school of theology by the government of Greece, Holy Cross is the recipient of a limited number of annual scholarships for its students to study at the schools of theology of the Universities of Athens and Thessaloniki. These scholarships are provided by the Government Scholarships Foundation in Greece (commonly referred by the acronym I.K.Y.). Each scholarship covers full tuition, provides a monthly stipend for an entire academic year, and covers part of the cost of the airfare between Boston and Greece. Normally, the I.K.Y. Scholarship is awarded for study in Greece during the second or third year of a three- or four-year course of study at Holy Cross. To be eligible for the scholarship, a student must be of Greek descent, demonstrate proficiency in the Greek language, and petition the faculty of Holy Cross for its approval. Information and application materials can be obtained from the Office of the Dean.

Exchange Program with St. Vladimir’s Seminary
Holy Cross and St. Vladimir’s Orthodox Theological Seminary, located in Crestwood, NY, offer an annual student exchange program for interested and qualified students. The exchange program allows the exchange student to spend one semester (fall or spring) at the host institution. The exchange student pays all applicable tuition and fees for the semester to his or her home institution. Interested Holy Cross students should speak with the Dean for more information. Students normally participate in the program during their middler year.
Holy Cross and Aristotelian University of Thessaloniki Educational Cooperation

Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology and the Theological School of the Aristotelian University of Thessaloniki have created a formal educational cooperative for the purpose of the mutual enrichment of the advanced theological programs of studies offered at the two institutions. This collaboration allows for the formal exchange of faculty and students between the two institutions. Specifically, graduating students of Holy Cross are encouraged to continue their postgraduate specializations through this program. Additionally, the two Schools publish proceedings of their joint theological conferences and the results of their theological research.

Holy Cross Fellowship

The School makes available a limited number of fellowships for international scholars from canonical Orthodox Churches who wish to experience theological education and Church life in the United States, audit advanced courses at Holy Cross and the BTI, and pursue theological research. Each Fellow works out a plan of study with the Dean and a personal faculty consultant. The Fellow, in addition to the programs of studies, may be asked to offer lectures, lead group discussions, and participate in other activities of the School. An applicant is required to submit a curriculum vitae, a letter verifying his or her status, and a brief statement describing the plan of study/research for the time in residence at Holy Cross.

Resident Fellow Program

Holy Cross seeks to assist the advancement of Orthodox studies by accepting established scholars as well as doctoral candidates as resident fellows to engage in research, teaching, publications, and other scholarly activities related to Orthodox studies. Inquiries may be addressed to the Office of the President. A cover letter, two recommendations from colleagues or former instructors, as well as a proposal of five pages or more presenting one’s scholarly plans and objectives, must be submitted to the Office of the President. The Dean and the faculty who will make recommendations to the President will review the dossier. One Fellow is appointed at a time, either for a period of one semester, or for an entire year. The appointment ends with the completion either of the semester or the academic year. The Fellow is offered room, board and a stipend; in return he or she may be asked to give one or more lectures in his or her area of specialization, sharing the findings of his or her research with the faculty and community.
The Stephen and Catherine Pappas Patristic Institute was established through a generous gift from Stephen and Catherine Pappas. The Patristic Institute seeks the advancement and promotion of patristic studies in the service of the academy and of the Church. The primary emphasis of the Institute is the study of the Greek patristic tradition broadly understood with special attention given to the way in which, characteristic of Orthodox theology, patristic theology is integral to all of Christian theology. In particular, the Institute supports the publication of theological texts and monographs on important themes, personalities, and aspects of the Christian tradition, and also sponsors conferences and lectures that intend to illuminate and communicate the inexhaustible richness of the Church's history.

The Mary Jaharis Center for Byzantine Art and Culture, founded in 2010 through a generous gift from the Jaharis Family Foundation, is dedicated to the promotion and advancement of knowledge about the rich heritage of Byzantine art and culture. Its programs, aimed at a diverse audience from high school students to university professors, encourage the study and appreciation of the arts and culture of the Byzantine Empire, which spanned three continents and over a thousand years, and the understanding of its enduring cultural and historical legacy. The Center is committed to Byzantine studies within and beyond the academy and strives to create programming and educational and research resources that engage scholars, the wider public, and the Orthodox Christian community in its mission.

The Missions Institute of Orthodox Christianity of Holy Cross seeks to promote a vibrant mission-consciousness among all seminarians, instilling an understanding of international cross-cultural missionary work along with the necessity for local evangelism and outreach.

The Kallinikeion Summer Modern Greek Intensive Language Program is an intensive Modern Greek language program sponsored by the Kallinikeion Foundation. The program offers two courses in Modern Greek, one at the beginning and one at the intermediate level. Each course meets for an average of 5 hours per day, Monday through Friday, in August, offering 102 hours of instruction in Modern Greek and 6 credits towards graduation.

Greek terms and concepts found in that pericope will be discussed in light of Old Testament Hebrew lexicon and theology. Special attention will be given to the Semitic background of Jesus’ sayings. This class is rather a workshop where instructor and students are engaged in a dynamic dialogue with the sacred text looking always at the ways this text, recording God’s revelation, may be offered as a gift to a world longing after God’s eternal word.

Scripture and Catechesis: Transformation and Formation
From the beginning, the Church occupied itself with passing on to its members what it had received from the Apostles the good news of the Gospel and all the wisdom that leads to spiritual maturity (I Cor 2:6). Jesus Himself spoke to the disciples about submitting to the yoke of His teaching, since he was both “meek and humble of heart,” so that they might enter into spiritual rest (Mat 11:28-30). The God-inspired work of admonishing, educating, and forming its members into mature followers of Christ has been one of the primary missions of the Church throughout its history. This course will focus on this mission of Christian catechesis and formation, starting with the New Testament, including the Gospels and their portraits of the followers of Jesus, St. Paul’s depictions of the paths toward spiritual maturity, and the Epistle to the Hebrews. We will give special attention to the role that the reading and study of Scripture plays in the development of the Christian community and its standards of conduct. The class will be conducted as a seminar, allowing each student to pick a topic of interest on which to write a research paper. Prerequisite: New Testament Introduction or permission of the instructor.

NEWT 6550 (3 credits)
St. Paul: His Legacy, Life, and Epistles
This course will study the epistles of St. Paul in their historical contexts, seeking to understand both the life of the saint who wrote these letters as well as the theology they espouse for the life of the Church then and now. The student will become much better acquainted with the Pauline corpus as a result of close reading, exegesis, and group discussion of the legacy St. Paul gave us in his epistles, preserved as Holy Scripture by the Church. We will endeavor to keep the image of St. Paul in our mind’s eye throughout the semester, and will give a privileged position to the preaching about Paul by our Father of the Church, St. John Chrysostom, by reading the seven sermons he preached “On the Praise of St. Paul.”

NEWT 7007 (3 credits)
Advanced New Testament Exegesis:

NEWT 7117
The Sunday Lectionary
This is a course on Advanced Exegesis Methods focused on the Sunday lectionary readings within their liturgical context. Each class the students will present her or his exegesis orally to the class, which will show a balance between historical, academic sources and a history of tradition approach, utilizing patristic and hymnological writings. This course builds on the skills learned in the required exegesis course, which is a prerequisite for this advanced course. Exegesis will be based on the Greek text with English translations. This course will focus on the art of interpreting Scripture, both as it has been done historically, as well as how it might be done in the Church today. The course seeks to integrate three complimentary areas or approaches to exegesis: 1) to gain an appreciation for the weekly cycle of Gospel and Epistle readings within the lectionary of the Greek Orthodox Church; 2) to be introduced to theories and methods of biblical interpretation, both contemporary academic and patristic; and 3) to provide a structured environment in which the student will be encouraged to practice each week these foundational skills used in biblical exegesis, practicing this art within the larger context of equipping the students to use these skills for teaching, preaching, and personal spiritual formation. The course, therefore, has a very practical side, as it explores how these diachronic interpretations might be useful models to teach the stewardship of God’s word today.

The Philokalia
The Philokalia is a collection of Orthodox spiritual writings consisting of both extracts and whole works of thirty-six Church Fathers and ecclesiastical writers from the fourth through the fifteenth century. Compiled on Mount Athos in the eighteenth century, it was soon translated into Slavonic, after which a number of Russian translations appeared. It has exerted profound influence on modern Orthodox spirituality—in Russia from the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, and in Western Europe and the United States especially from the 1950s—and is now generally recognized as a definitive expression of the ascetic and spiritual tradition of the Orthodox Church. Taking advantage of recent scholarly breakthroughs in the study of the Philokalia, this course begins by considering the collection’s historical background, followed by a close reading (in English translation) of select works from the Philokalia, with special attention to the Prayer of the Heart.

Orthodox Christian Ethics
Christian moral theology is concerned with virtue not as an end in itself, but as an indispensable, challenging, and rewarding dimension of the Good Life, the Life in Christ. As such, a proper aim of Christian ethics is happiness, or rather blessedness; thus, St. Seraphim of Sarov’s famous dictum: The goal of the Christian life is the acquisition of the Holy Spirit. Taking our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and the Panaghia as our primary ethical models, the class considers the meaning and shape of ‘right action’ within the matrix of Uncreated Grace.

This course will explore basic questions related to the ministry of education in the life of the Orthodox Christian parish in North America. We will use the following questions as the basic organizing principles: Why do we teach in the Church? What is the goal of education in the Church? Does the Church have a curriculum? What can we learn from Acts 2:42-47 for parishes today? Who are we teaching? What are some approaches to the education of Christians? Who is going to teach? What is the role of the teacher? Because the class also has a field component through the Field Education program, where it is assumed that the students are teaching Sunday school, presenting the Faith to OCF groups, or working in educational settings, students will have the opportunity and will be expected to apply these skills in their field setting. Theology of Pastoral Care II
Theology of Pastoral Care II is intended to build upon Theology of Pastoral Care I by presenting a framework for understanding contemporary pastoral issues through the lens of Orthodox theology of the person, sickness, healing, and salvation. This class is not intended to provide you with the ‘right’ answers for pastoral decisions. Rather, this course is designed, through the readings, class discussions, and assignments to develop your understanding of Orthodox pastoral care and your thinking as an Orthodox Christian and future minister/pastor. The models of Orthodox Pastors/Saints explored in the first semester class serve as witnesses to the Orthodox pastoral care framework we will develop and discuss this semester as we explore contemporary pastoral issues, and secular theories and research. Particular attention will be placed on understanding how to access and integrate current secular knowledge into an Orthodox worldview to develop an appropriate pastoral response. Students will be invited to explore and discuss different dimensions of the pastoral care relationship and explore, independently and as a class, how one might address contemporary pastoral care issues. As in the first semester, particular emphasis will be placed on how we work together in the classroom, and on campus, as we develop an Orthodox understanding and approach to pastoral care.

Auxiliary Organizations

Holy Cross Bookstore
Holy Cross Bookstore provides a nationwide service for Orthodox books. It is the largest source of Orthodox ecclesiastical and liturgical books in the United States. It also provides icons, icon prints, incense, prayer ropes, crosses, and recordings, as well as scholarly and popular books on theology, history, religious art, and Greek culture and civilization.

Holy Cross Orthodox Press
The earliest publications of the Press date back nearly to the founding of Holy Cross in 1937. From its modest beginnings, the Press has grown into a significant publisher of over five hundred books, chiefly in the disciplines of Orthodox spirituality, theology, patristics, liturgics, history, and culture. The Press has published books by well-known Orthodox authors, as well as by notable authors from other traditions. In recent years, the Press has also published numerous liturgical texts and a series of patristic texts newly translated into contemporary English. The publications of the Press, together with The Greek Orthodox Theological Review, have contributed to the advancement of Orthodox theological studies and the development of the Church not only in North America, but also throughout the world.

The Greek Orthodox Theological Review
Established in 1954 by the faculty of Holy Cross, the Review has been concerned both with examining historical themes and with engaging the critical theological issues facing the Church today. It is a journal through which scholarly studies have been shared, new books have been reviewed, and significant documents have been preserved. The content of the Review reflects the rich development of Orthodox theology and theological concerns over the past fifty years.

Office of Alumni Relations
Located on campus, the Office of Alumni Relations maintains contact with the graduates of both Hellenic College and Holy Cross. The Office publishes an online newsletter and sponsors the alumni lectures and seminars.

Archdiocesan Department of Religious Education
The Greek Orthodox Archdiocese Department of Religious Education is located on the campus of Holy Cross and provides the parishes of the Archdiocese with services and materials needed for religious education programs. The primary responsibility of this department is to produce and provide the books, pamphlets, seminars, and audio-visual materials that impart the Orthodox faith. While the Department of Religious Education is not a part of the organizational structure of Hellenic College, it cooperates fully with the faculty and administration.

Maliotis Cultural Center
The Maliotis Cultural Center was dedicated on September 19, 1976. Donated by the late Charles and Mary Maliotis of Belmont, MA, the Center provides a variety of cultural programs and facilities for events sponsored by Hellenic College and Holy Cross.

The Center consists of an auditorium with a seating capacity of four hundred, dressing rooms for costume changes during performances, six exhibition halls, four lecture halls, two seminar rooms, an audio-visual room, and music rooms. The Center is a complete setting for multifaceted cultural and educational programs.
